It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

The Seventieth Annual Meeting.

Since the whooping cough descendeth alike upon the just and the unjust, even the descendants of missionaries are not immune; and because of the prevalence of that malady in Honolulu, the roll call of the seventieth annual Cousins' meeting lacked the large attendance that previous ones have had, and much of the zest of the famous rivalry.

For instance, the ratio of this year's display of Cookes to that of former occasions was similar to the ratio of Rainbow Falls during a drought to Rainbow Falls after a cloudburst.

However, those who were present had the true roll-call spirit, and the youthful Cookes who represent three families jumped to their feet each time as good naturedly as ever. When having already done duty as Judds and as Cookes, they responded to the call for Rices, someone was heard to mutter: "Same crowd again!" but the voice strikingly resembled that of the retiring president, who being a Cooke himself, is privileged to comment.

The Judd ranks too were somewhat depleted, but the family made a good showing, as did many others that are less pretentious numerically.

That we are as proud as ever of our Gulicks, was evidenced by the applause that greeted them as they stood. Bent with years, yes; but what years they have been! With what unfathomable generosity have these Cousins given to the world around them of their days, their strength, their talents, and their love!

Judge Dole too won applause, standing as the sole representative of his family—as finely regal as of old; and as gently gracious.

Despite its whooping cough handicap, the roll-call was the most complete one in our history; for though not present in person, all or nearly all the living Cousins were accounted for, the number of living descendants being read after the name of each missionary father. It was interesting to note the percentages present, the Forbeses and Chamberlains ranking high in this respect.

The suggestion made at the last annual meeting, of a roll-call by mail, of absent Cousins, has been carried out with diligent effort, by Mrs. Andrews, aided by the courtesy of distant members in forwarding information, and the new records thus gained are a valuable addition to our data.

During the meeting a tribute was paid to Mr. George R. Carter for the priceless gift of his entire Hawaiian historical library. Since the society is prepared to preserve books where moth and silverfish cannot corrupt, it is hoped that all who can, will add to this library by donations of books, journals and letters pertaining to the mission, and to the early history of the Islands.

The program was of unusual interest, consisting largely of reminiscences. Mrs. Orramel Gulick's paper on her memories of the missionary mothers, portrayed each character with such realism that it seemed as if the lovable women came and went among us as she read.

Mrs. Ellen Armstrong Weaver related that typification of the attitude of a cold and suspicious world to the missionary, the story of Brother Richards' black satin trousers—made from his wife's old skirt, to bridge a situation of dire necessity, but arousing widespread condemnation as an evidence of reckless extravagance and missionary luxury.

Then in her inimitable way, Mrs. Weaver told of some of her childish pranks; while the realization came to her audience that the same audacious vivacity of thought that prompted little Ellen Armstrong to shoot an arrow into Father Emerson's admonishing hand, is today the well-spring of the breezy talks we so enjoy hearing.

Judge Dole's reminiscences also tended to prove that the interests of that select juvenile band were not exclusively centered upon catechism and astronomy. His description of a monkey coming to prayer meeting bore a vividness that only tremendous enjoyment of the incident at the time of its occurrence could make possible.

He also told of the wedding of the Orramel Gulicks at Cousins' meeting; and mentioned the number of marriages that occurred between the presidents and vice-presidents of the society in its early days.

Mrs. Helen Chamberlain Ives, who is visiting Honolulu after an absence of twenty years, was called upon for a greeting. She commented upon the appearance of modern Honolulu, saying that it eclipses in beauty the old Honolulu, that her memory had treasured as the most beautiful spot she knew.

Mrs. Ives spoke of reading her grandfather's old letters, and discovering therein evidences of his warmly affectionate nature that as a little child she had not discerned under the rather stern exterior.

It was found that several of the Cousins who attended the seventieth annual meeting had graced the first Cousins' meeting with their presence, though one of them at least was carried there as a babe in arms. They were: Miss Julia Gulick, Dr. John Gulick, Mr. Orramel Gulick, Mrs. Weaver, Mr. Joseph Emerson and Mr. W. R. Castle.

The anniversary exercises terminated with the usual closing hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," with Mother Judd at the piano. It may not be amiss to mention here that the writer knows of one Cousin, who when the necessity arose to intersperse broken phrases of the last stanza with "oo-oo-ooo," resolved to make a careful study of her hymn book sometime before next May. Possibly there were others?

MINUTES OF ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting was held in the Mission Memorial Hall at half past two o'clock, Saturday, April 21st, 1922, with President George P. Cooke in the chair.

Mrs. Agnes H. B. Judd led the singing of "Blest be the Tie."

L. A. Dickey voiced the prayer of the assembly.

It was voted to approve the minutes of the last annual meeting.

The President's address told of the receipt of $25,000 for the endowment fund, turned over by the Hawaiian Board from the Centennial Fund; of the gift of the Library, and of the appointment of a new Library committee and a Finance Committee consisting of the Trustees.

The reports of the Board of Managers and of the Secretary were read and accepted.

The Treasurer's annual report read by L. A. Dickey was also accepted. This was followed by a collection of $58.55, with $10 given for a new membership fee, the giver's name to appear in the next Annual Report.

GIFT OF LIBRARY

Under new business, Arthur C. Alexander announced that Mr. George R. Carter had given his valuable library of books, and other printed material relating to Hawaii, now housed in the Chamberlain House, to the Society and read the deed of gift as follows:

"KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, THAT I, GEORGE R. CARTER, of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, in consideration of my high regard and affection for the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, an Hawaiian corporation, of which I am a member, and in consideration of my desire to perpetuate as complete as possible a record of the Hawaiian Mission with its background and result, do hereby give, grant, transfer and deliver to the said Hawaiian Mission Children's Society all my books, manuscripts and other items of Hawaiiana, now in the possession of said corporation in the so-called "Chamberlain House" on King Street in said Honolulu, including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing description, the following:

- (1) 1681 volumes in Unit Cases,—22 book-cases.
- (2) 2348 Pamphlets,—2 book-cases.
- (3) 701 Items in Hawaiian.
- (4) 323 Items in South Sea Languages.
- (5) 81 Volumes South Sea History (in English).
- (6) 34 Copperplate Engravings.
- (7) 20 Pictures.
- (8) A set of Kauai Currency.
- (9) A number of bound volumes, Hawaiian newspapers and other volumes too large for cases.

- (10) A collection of rare old Hawaiian Broad­sides (English and Hawaiian); together with the book-cases containing the above mentioned volumes and pamphlets, card index files and all my other library furniture and equipment now in the possession of said corporation at said "Chamberlain House";

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the same unto the said Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, its successors and assigns forever.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand this 16th day of March, 1922.

(Signed) GEORGE R. CARTER.

Territory of Hawaii }
City and County of Honolulu } ss

On this 16th day of March, A. D. 1922, before me personally appeared GEORGE R. CARTER, to me known to be the person described in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and acknowledged that he executed the same as his free act and deed.

(Signed) E. E. Lyman,
Notary Public, First Judicial Circuit, Territory of Hawaii.

Mr. Alexander also stated that Mr. Carter would provide funds for the maintenance of the library and had announced his intention of continuing to add to the collection of books. The members of the Society were earnestly requested to help by furnishing additional material relating to the mission, such as copies of journals and letters.

After comments on Mr. Carter's generosity and the great value of his collection, the following resolution presented by Mr. Alexander was unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTION:

WHEREAS, GEORGE R. CARTER, one of our members who has always contributed most generously both of his time and means towards the maintenance of our Society, has further shown his interest by conveying to us by deed of gift dated March 16, 1922, his extensive and unique collection of books, manuscripts and other items of Hawaiiana now in the Chamberlain House with all the accompanying equipment, be it

RESOLVED, that we, the members of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society in annual meeting assembled, accept this gift and express our great appreciation of its value and the spirit that prompted it, and instruct the Secretary to convey to the donor our sincere thanks.

ALSO that a new committee be added to the standing committees of our Society to be known as the Library Committee and to have the care and maintenance of the Society's Library, this committee to consist of three members appointed by the President, the first three members to serve for terms of one, two and three years respectively, and their successors to serve for terms of three years each.

REMINISCENCES

After the transaction of the business of the meeting, the members listened to various papers and reminiscences.

W. O. Smith told of the interesting Centennial Celebration held in November at Waioli, Kauai, and the gift by the Wilcox daughters of the Community House and grounds to the people of that district, and reminded the Cousins that the Lahaina Centennial would be celebrated soon, and that of Koloa, Kauai, would occur in 1923.

Seven of the charter members of the Society were found to be present.

LIST OF LIVING DESCENDANTS

The "Roll-Call by Mail," as compiled from the genealogical records sent in by letter together with those already recorded in the Big Book, presented by the Secretary, shows that of living descendants 116 are Judds, 89 Alexanders, 84 Baldwins, 84 Clarks, 81 Cookes, 80 Lymans, 66 Rices, 59 Rowells, 58 Richards, 57 of Dr. J. W. Smith's family, 52 Castles, 50 Gulicks and 44 Baileys; of the Bingham family 42, Hitchcock 41, L. Andrews 40, Hall 40, Dole 39, Chamberlain 35, Armstrong 35, Bond 34, Wilcox 32, Thurston 30, Kinney 28, C. B. Andrews 25, Damon 23, Whitney 22, Ruggles 23, Ives 21, L. Smith 19, Rogers 18, Paris 18, Dimond 18, Bishop 17, Pogue 14, Johnson 13, Shipman 13, Dibble 13, Green 12, Dwight 11, Tinker 11, Wetmore 10, Parker 9, Emerson 8, Forbes 8, Van Duzee 6, Lyons 5, Locke 3, Coan 2, Loomis 1, S. L. Andrews 1, Stewart 1 and W. O. Baldwin 1.

These are correct as far as the secretary has returns, but from some families late records are wanting and of other families only certain branches have reported. The list, though incomplete, is published in this report that errors may be corrected.

These numbers cannot be added to secure a total, for some Cousins are reported twice, and a few represent three missionary families. Two little boys can boast of their descent from four mission family heads.

MRS. R. W. ANDREWS

Secretary

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To the Members of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society:

During the year the Hawaiian Board turned over to our Society $25,000 worth of securities as an endowment. This fund had been raised by the Hawaiian Board during Centennial year. The various funds of the Society have been placed in the Hawaiian Trust Company, Limited, as custodian. They attend to the collection and expenditure of receipts. Our Treasurer will report on these matters.

During the year Mr. Geo. R. Carter has made a deed of gift of his library to the Society. It is fitting that we acknowledge this gift. At a meeting of the Board of Managers it was voted to enlarge the committees of the Society to include a library committee in order that this gift may be properly looked after. As a suggestion to the incoming President, I would beg to have the name of Mr. Geo. R. Carter considered as Chairman of this committee.

Your Board of Managers also passed a resolution to this effect:

"That the Trustees of the Society be requested to assign their lease of the property to the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, which is now incorporated, and that the Society tender a vote of thanks to these Trustees."

The Board of Managers would also request the incoming President to have these Trustees act as a finance committee to attend to the investment of funds which may be in the hands of the Treasurer or the Hawaiian Trust Company, Limited. I think such a committee would see that the funds were invested to the best advantage.

I desire to express my thanks to the Secretary, Records and Board of Managers for their hearty coöperation during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE P. COOKE
President

A FEW REMINISCENCES OF THE MISSIONARY MOTHERS.

A REMARKABLE COMPANY OF WOMEN.

As I think of the days of my girlhood, the faces of the dear mothers of the Mission rise up before me. The features of friends of later days are indistinct or have vanished altogether, but those of many of the mothers are printed indelibly upon my memory.

Mother Bingham and others of the first company of missionaries returned to the home land too early for me to have any remembrance of them.

Mother Thurston, of the first company of missionaries, some of you probably remember, as she lived to old age. She had a large commanding figure, corresponding well with that of her husband, black hair and black eyes that could express displeasure, and twinkle with fun, was deliberate, quaint, and humorous in speech, and always interesting. We older girls considered it a great privilege to sometimes be permitted to attend the Mothers' meetings held during General Mission meeting times and hear her talk about bringing up children, and tell her experiences. She was more careful to keep her children away from the natives than most mothers.

Mother Whitney, also of the first company, was tall and slender, with a sober face, made more so probably by the fact that all of her children were sent to the home land when they were very young, the parents feeling it was not safe to keep them here. Thankful was I that my parents were willing to run the risk of bringing up their children here, which was home.

Mother Richards, of the second company, was a medium-sized woman with a dear, sweet face, and full of kindness to all the children. She was not strong, and I well remember when she was visiting her dear friend, Miss Ogden, in our station at Wailuku, of reading aloud to her many evenings, books that had no interest to me, and which soothed her to sleep. When several of us mission children in our teens left for the Fatherland Mother Richards, accompanied by two daughters, was our mother during the long voyage around Cape Horn.

Dear Miss Ogden, large of figure and homely of face, but a very saint. Her large, loving heart went out in helpfulness to every one who needed help—to mission children who were deprived temporarily of a mother's care, to two orphan girls to whom she was for years a devoted mother, and to her large school of Hawaiian girls, who became the enlightened mothers of the next generation. The daughter of one of these, when her parents went as missionaries to the Marquesas Islands, she took to her heart and home, and brought up as her own daughter. We all loved Miss Ogden.

Then there was Mother Green with her bright, cheery face, and jolly words, and always good things to eat on her table, at least after I was old enough to know her. The company of missionaries of which she was one, had a hard voyage to the Islands, as they were required by the Captain to do their own cooking, and for the first few weeks after they left Boston Mrs. Green was the only one of the ladies who did not succumb to sea sickness, and could wait on the others. What an angel of mercy she must have been to that seasick crowd!

Another of the company who came on the "Parthian" was dear Mother Andrews. The Andrews family were our near neighbors on the Lahainaluna hill in my childhood days, and the children of the two families were almost inseparable, and the mothers very much like own mothers to both groups. Mother Andrews had sparkling black eyes, an attractive face and much humor in her conversation, and when an old lady living in Honolulu she was said to be about as popular with the young men as her attractive daughters.

Mother Gulick was another of the saints, slight in form, frail-looking, with brown hair and soft brown eyes. She devoted herself lovingly to the care of her seven sons and one daughter, and was permitted to see all but one grow up and become missionaries. She and father Gulick, in their old age, followed one of their sons cheerfully to the foreign mission field, and, unlike most of the other missionaries, who were laid to rest here, their bodies rest under the pine trees on the shore of Dai Nippon, near the Inland Sea.

Mother Chamberlain—I can see her black eyes, and the black curls on each side of her face, as plainly as when we were guests in her hospitable home during an Annual Meeting of the Mission. She was full of good works, bringing up a large family of her own, and caring for many babies not her own, helping young mothers in trouble, and always ready to entertain the brethren and sisters from the other islands, in her Honolulu home.

Mother Judd was another of those living in Honolulu who had abundant opportunity to practice the gift of hospitality. She was a rather large woman with kindly dark eyes, and what made an impression on my youthful mind, she parted her hair on one side, an uncommon thing in those days. I still cherish a gift she gave me as I left home, when 16 years old, for the long voyage around Cape Horn.

Mother Baldwin was rather small, if I remember aright, with a lovely face. The Baldwins lived at Lahaina when we lived at Lahainaluna, and the two miles between the places was often walked by the hill children to visit those on the shore, sure of a kindly welcome from them and from their dear mother. She was always busy, for living at a seaport they had much company, and her dining table was usually a long one. I well remember that on our return voyages from Honolulu on a miserable schooner, we looked forward with delight to the good meal we should have at Mother Baldwin's on reaching Lahaina.

The first Mother Dibble I did not know, but the second one, the good step-mother of my friend Maria, I well remember, not only as our neighbor at Lahainaluna, but as I have met her in the years since at Honolulu and in Washington. Bright and interesting in conversation, cordial and pleasant in manner, it was always a genuine pleasure to meet her.

Mother Alexander was beloved by every one, she was so pretty, and so quiet and gentle in manner, and full of smiles and cordiality. Father Alexander was so full of wit and hearty good cheer, that she could afford to be more quiet than some of the mothers! She had five sons and four daughters to rise up and call her blessed.

Mother Emerson of Waiialua, for that was long her abiding place, must be well remembered by many present. Strong, energetic, wise and loving, she was just the one to be the mother of seven sons and a daughter. Time never hung heavy on her hands. She was full of good works, now for the comfort of her family and friends, for she had many visitors, and now teaching the choir to sing next Sunday's hymns, or giving kindly advice to a Hawaiian woman, for all the native women came to the Missionary Mothers with their pilikias. When later we had charge of a large school of girls in the old Gulick home at Waialua, it was a great help to me to have the counsel of dear Mother Emerson.

Mother Clark, to me the dearest and sweetest of all the mothers, was my own precious mother. I will not try to describe her, but never did a large family of children, have a more loving, impartial, devoted mother, who grew lovelier and dearer to them as the years passed, and they appreciated more and more her true worth. She was an earnest worker for Hawaiian women, and full of good cheer and helpfulness to all about her. I remember hearing a gentleman of the mission, after a quiet talk with her on mission matters, remark how helpful the opinion of the sisters of the mission was to the brothers.

I have only given a few of my early recollections of mission mothers, and not told of the good helpmeets they were to their busy husbands, nor of the various forms of missionary work in which they were themselves engaged.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The Introduction.

The 69th Annual Reports of the Cousins' Society were received from the printer June 18, and were sent out immediately.

This number contained changes in the By-Laws to provide for a Finance Committee and an Auditor, through whom the Treasurer and Trustees may be relieved, to a large extent, of detail financial duties.

It contained also the resignation of the Recorder, R. W. Andrews, after eighteen years of devoted, loving service; with a loving tribute of appreciation in words by W. W. Chamberlain and a generous free-will offering from his fellow Cousins.

It also gave the history by W. R. Castle of the "Old Schoolhouse" or "General Meeting House," and an account of its restoration. It told of our proteges at school; of the progress in indexing the Annual Reports and of gifts received. All this the 69th report told, besides mention of the mission workers, the schools, the roll-call and the vital statistics.

Since then the Indexing of the Reports has progressed until of the seventy numbers in all, forty-nine have been card-indexed, and are ready, at the office, for use.

Our Proteges, Marion Guerrero and Ethel Ching, did well at Maunaulu last year, and we added to our list two more girls, the twins, Mary and Martha Naukena, at Maunaolu; Mary Kaheiki at Kohala, and Helen Iona at Kawaiahao. Helen seems delighted with life at Kawaiahao; Mary Kaheiki is reported as happy and faithful at Kohala, and Ethel Ching wrote a bright, cheery letter at Christmas time from Maunaolu. Marion Guerrero wrote: "I am having a wonderful opportunity to make good at dear Maunaolu. I appreciate all you have done for me. I am trying my level best and am glad to tell you I have passed all my Christmas examinations. I am evening cook and find great pleasure in it, for I am fond of cooking and hope some time to take special lessons in Domestic Science. I also put the little children to bed at seven o'clock in the evening. I love to put the kiddies to bed for they are so dear to me. I was milk and butter maid during Christmas vacation and made about 28 pounds of butter. I like it." The above quotations show a very fine spirit of service, and it seems to me our money was not wasted.

We would gratefully acknowledge the following Gifts. On Aug. 11th, Miss Carrie Bray gave a "darning-ball" made from wood taken from the wreck of "Morning Star, No. 3," also a tiny bell of wood and copper, carved out by Rev. A. C. Walkup from that same wreck. Miss Bray also gave photographs of Dr. and Mrs. Pease; Dr. Pease with little Anna Forbes, who is now the wife of his son, Frank S. Pease; Rev. R. W. Logan and Mrs. Logan; Mrs. Elizabeth N. Snelling; Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Walkup, and the three Walkup children; Rev. A. A. Sturges; Rev. Joel Whitney and family, and Miss Ida M. Foss. On Sept. 15th the following photographs from Judge S. B. Dole were given the Society through our vice-president, Miss Ethel Damon: William F. Allen and Mrs. Allen, Queen Kapiolani, Princess Pauahi Bishop, King Lunalilo, Princess Kaiulani, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Cruzan, Mrs. P. C. Jones and Ned Jones, Alice Jones (now Mrs. A. Lewis), Ada Jones (Mrs. A. Gartley), Irene Ii (Mrs. Holloway), E. O. Hall, W. L. Whitney and William T. Brigham. Two small group photographs were among this collection, one containing the pictures of Anne Alexander, Emily Baldwin, Louise Johnson, Anna Paris and Emma Smith; and the other, nearly the same, had Anne and Emily Alexander, Julia and Anne Maria Dimond, Juliette Cooke and Louise Johnson. Miss B. Frances Bindt gave a package of valuable photographs, among them very pretty pictures of Miss Frances Johnson, one an Ambrotype, with quaint Daguerreotypes of Father Johnson, and an autograph album belonging to Miss Lois Hoyt, afterward the wife of Rev. Edward Johnson and the grandmother of Miss Bertha Bindt. There were also letters from "Father and Mother Johnson" written at Waioli, Kauai, and a book on Religion published in 1719. In September, a rocking chair, owned by Mrs. Maria (Patton) Chamberlain, was given by her granddaughters, Maria and Harriet Forbes. Later, Mrs. Ellen Armstrong Weaver, through her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Weaver, gave framed pictures of Washington and Lincoln, sketches into which she had put all her skill and love of art. In October three of the Centennial Kahilis were given by the Hawaiian Board and placed in the Chamberlain reception room under the direction of Mrs. A. P. Taylor.

The Grounds have been greatly changed during the year. Early in the season we grieved for the loss of two large trees that grew near the stone wall which had to be set back to widen King street. But the largest monkey-pod tree was left, and the old tamarind mauka of the Chamberlain house. The beautiful young kukui in front of the office, and the pretty, thrifty little fan-palms still stand. The cocoanut trees at the entrance to The Old Frame House, planted January 15, 1912, by G. P. Wilder, are in good condition—the one from Nicaragua, on the Waikiki side, gaining on that from Panama. The latter was seed gathered from a tree planted at Panama by the great engineer, Ferdinand de Lesseps. A mango tree back of the frame house, two in front of the Chamberlain house and two makai, with a tamarind tree, two cocoanuts, six date palms, a small avocado pear and a still smaller fig tree, sum up our tree friends. All these are in a setting of emerald green, for the weeds have been cleared away and the grass carefully cut up to the gracefully curved stone wall that separates it from Kawaiahao Lane. Thanks to G. R. Carter, chairman of the house-and-grounds committee, an excellent yardman, Yamagata, has been secured and the grounds never looked so well. The City is now working on that muddy, or fearfully dusty Kawaiahao Lane, and in time it will be a strong concrete drive, suitable for the heavy traffic it sustains. On King street, between the O. M. H. and Mission Memorial, they have widened the street, changed electric wire posts, put in storm-sewers, double-tracked the Rapid Transit and are now (in March) making a solid, substantial concrete road with gutters. When this is finished and sidewalks made, our Municipal Center will have a street to be proud of.

Our Extensive Library, gathered for and given to the Society by Ex-Governor G. R. Carter, and the Museum, remained under the care of Mr. Carter's librarian, Miss Dora Stevens, until after her marriage to J. N. King. Rev. B. T. Sheeley was then temporarily appointed to take charge. He is greatly interested in the Library and considers it a wonderful treasure-house of Hawaiian knowledge.

Among items of general interest are the Welfare Drive, when $275,000 was collected for home benevolences, and the Near East Relief with its $17,000 collection.

Every one is interested in the acquisition of the National Park on Hawaii, and the new postoffice in Honolulu; and lack of space only prevents an account of the royal funeral of Kuhio Kalaniana'ole.

On this 70th Anniversary it is proper to summarize, briefly, the work of the Society. Its fifty years of missionary service in Micronesia with the expenditure of more than $76,000; its work among the Hawaiians at boarding schools; its unique place in society among the young people; its literary attainments as exemplified by the eighteen volumes of Maile Wreath and by the Maile Quarterly; and its musical record; were all ably told at the Jubilee meeting in 1902 and may be found in the 50th report of the Society.

The 6th Decade was one of changes, surprises, and progress. In 1903 and 1904, Dr. A. B. Clark being president, the Society began working up such changes in the constitution as to make it a Memorial Society. The office of Recorder was created and R. W. Andrews began his long labor of love—the compiling of “The Big Book” of genealogies. In 1907, the Society, through Lyle A. Dickey and A. F. Judd, was able to secure a charter. In 1907 the long agitated and apparently visionary idea of a “Home for the Society” was realized through the generosity of our Cousin C. M. Cooke, who bought the “Old Mission Home” and gave a lease of twenty years to the Society, and of others who supplied the $2500 and more to put it in repair.

In this year and the following, solicitations were made for original and other publications for our library, to which a few of our authors responded. Reminiscent papers were written by many cousins, and filed; and in 1908 the play, “A Mission Sewing Circle,” prepared by Mr. James Wilder, was given on a platform makai of the old Mission House, with Queen Liliuokalani, Admiral Moore, General Macomb and Governor Pinkham as honored guests. 1910 was another memorable year as it brought to us the acquisition of the Chamberlain House. This was the gift of the sons of C. M. Cooke in memory of their father, and of B. R. Banning and the Chamberlain heirs, who together bought the property and deeded it to the Society. In 1912 the Grandmothers’ Tea Party was held and its valuable papers were secured.

The 7th Decade may be classified as that of renewed social activities. Attendance and interest in the yearly meetings increased rapidly, especially among the young people. The Competitive Roll Call of Attendance, proposed by Rev. Horace W. Chamberlain and continued for five years had much to do with this. Then the Roll Call by families has created great rivalry among all the generations. The children began to take part in 1915, by presenting pennants of the vessels in which their forbears arrived, and by reading letters written by the very early children of the mission. In 1918 they told of “The First Missionaries and their Voyage on the Brig Thaddeus.” In 1919 they discussed “The Brig Thaddeus” and “Some of the First Things in Honolulu” and had a tableau, “Breaking of the Tabu.” In 1920 they discussed “The Brig Thaddeus” and “Some of the First Things in Honolulu” and had a tableau “Breaking of the Tabu.” In 1920 they acted the very popular play, “The Romance of Reality,” by Miss Ethel Damon, and in 1921 a beautiful musical program was rendered. One year they gave "Wake Isles of the South" and "Head of the Church Triumphant," hymns sung by our first missionaries in 1820. Although the Great War occurred during this decade and there were many patriotic meetings and meetings for war service, yet many gatherings of interest are recorded. The Gulick reception was held in 1913; the Carnival Missionary Exhibit and the Emerson Reception in 1914. There were two Golden Weddings in 1914, that of Mr. and Mrs. L. Severance and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Ives, but these were not celebrated in Honolulu. In 1915 was held the reception to Mrs. Lydia Bingham Coan in the house where she was born 80 years before. In 1917 the young folks gathered with Mrs. B. F. Dillingham in the Old Mission Home for stories of the olden time. After many patriotic meetings, and meetings for war service, 1920 brought the Centennial Reception and Tea Party on the Old Mission Grounds, the delightful reunions, distinguished speakers, and the Pageant; and in 1921 the Pan-Pacific Educational Congress was entertained on the beautiful grounds, and the International Press Congress.

But the social activities did not include all of value and interest during this period. Twelve frames enclosing the faces of 120 missionaries were secured and hung in the Old Mission Home, and journals and letters by the Fathers and Mothers received and indexed. Many pictures of the second generation were collected and placed in the "Picture-Pillar" where their friendly faces smilingly greet old friends. The history of the mission, "Pilgrims of Hawaii," by Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick, has been written as a crowning service to their country; the Mission Memorial Building (and we lovingly claim a part of it and have filled the vault with valuable records) has been built; the Nauru Bible in which we were so interested has been completed; the Chamberlain House has been renovated and in it are gathered the beginnings of our museum and the excellent Library, the gift of our Cousin G. R. Carter. There were gifts also of lands from the heirs of Levi T. Chamberlain and the Mary Castle Estate, and the transfer of lands which gave into the care of the Cousins, the Mission Cemetery. More changes in the constitution, providing for an Auditor, were completed and we stand at the threshold of the 8th decade, ready for great deeds worthy the self-sacrificing, noble ancestors whom it is our privilege to honor.

MISSIONARY WORKERS.

The mission work of the Cousins, since its re-organization as a Memorial Society, has been done mostly by individuals, or through other organizations such as Central Union Church, the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., the Woman's Board of Missions, and especially by our big younger brother, the Hawaiian Board, now carrying on the work so ably begun by the Fathers and Mothers whose names it is ours to honor. Central Union Church will probably begin actively its building operations by mid-summer. Rev. A. W. Palmer went to the mainland in January for a two months' lecture tour of certain colleges and seminaries, his subject being, "Hawaii's Part in the Christianizing of the World." One who heard him, writes, "Mr. Palmer told us more in an hour than we could have learned in months of reading." In the meantime our associate pastor, Rev. A. E. Shattuck, is carrying double responsibility as preacher, pastor and educational director. Our former associate pastor, Rev. E. T. Sherman, left in August to become Chaplain of the Kamehameha Schools. Palama Settlement celebrated its 25th birthday anniversary on June 1st, when all former pupils and workers were invited and the settlement received as a donation, a portrait of P. C. Jones, the founder. On June 28, a party of seventy campers, mothers and young children, set out for the Palama Fresh Air Camp at Waialua, for a two weeks' rest on the seashore, followed later by other groups.

The Y. W. C. A., carrying on faithful, varied and telling work along its many lines, entered, this year in November, the beautiful new Homestead given by the Atherton heirs, in memory of their sister, Miss Kate Atherton. The name Fernhurst, is the old home name, for the same stately palms and tropical vegetation, planted by Mrs. Juliette Cooke Atherton to gladden her own happy household, now brighten the hearts of the young women who call it home.

The Y. M. C. A., reaching out helping hands in every direction, has taken up the work of training leaders for Japan, Russia, China and Hawaii; the International Y. M. C. A. on Fort Street being an ideal environment with special opportunities for such a class.

The Jubilee of the Woman's Board of Missions was one of real rejoicing and uplift. Mrs. Mary Atherton Richards presided in her own efficient way; Mrs. Orramel Gulick, 88 years of age, led the devotions; Mrs. J. M. Whitney, 83 years old, in a paper, "Lest We Forget," gave a long able history of the Society, telling of its personnel, its meetings and the things accomplished; and Mrs. Emma Lyons Doyle, the Treasurer, with the assistance of Miss Dorothy Rowell, gave a concise, illustrated picture-chart of the finances throughout the years. The Board got out a re-print of "The Life and Times of Lucy Thurston" as a jubilee venture, besides raising a fund to support a missionary on the foreign field. Mrs. Carrie Castle Westervelt, a real missionary for the Armenians, got in her plea for "Near East Relief." The music was given by a quartette of Cousins dressed in the quaint costumes of forty years ago.

The Hawaiian Board of Missions held its annual meeting at Hilo, in July, 1921. We read in their last report of a gain in membership of 1411 with an enrollment of 10,473, "due to the faithful work of the pastors and evangelists." The Social Department has been especially developed for winning the young people. This work at Wai-pahu under Miss Meda E. Lynn, Mr. O'Brien and others has had such a beneficial effect that the Oahu Sugar Company has voted them a monthly subsidy of $500. At Kaneohe, Miss Della M. Brotherton and Mrs. James W. Countermine have organized social and religious meetings among the several races. At Waiakea Settlement, Hilo, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Flugun have been building up a strong community spirit. Rev. Norman C. Schenck, of the Religious Educational Committee, has charge of the development of these stations and of the founding of new centers. The Daily Vacation Bible Schools are also under this committee. Among the Board's American workers are Rev. R. W. Bayless, missionary and pastor of the Union Church, Lihue, Kauai; Rev. R. G. Hall at Koloa, Kauai; Rev. Geo. H. DeKay, for one year pastor of the Union Church, Kahului, Maui; Rev. D. M. Weller, missionary at Kona, Hawaii; Rev. William A. Tate who organized a community church at Lahaina, and then went to Australia on a three months' leave of absence; Rev. Howard N. Smith from Oregon, who takes the place of Rev. J. S. Smith, resigned from Honokaa, Hawaii; Rev. T. C. Williams of the foreign church, Kohala, who also acts as missionary for the Board; Rev. George E. Lake, resigned from his arduous post at Hana, Maui, after six years of faithful labor; Rev. E. E. Pleasant of Wailuku, head of the Maui Aid Association; and Rev. Willis C. Cryder, resigned in August from his pastorate of Wailuku Union Church.

The Christian Workers' Institute and Bible Training School are in vigorous condition and lead up to the new department, the Theological Seminary with its four years' course. This will be housed in the old Castle Homestead, later called the Y. W. C. A. Homestead. During the year the Rev. Dr. J. W. Countermine has been added to the list of professors in the Theological Seminary. The Hawaiian Board has finished raising the $400,000 Centennial Fund, and the interest is in use. The Centennial Book, published by the Hawaiian Board this year is well worth owning. Each of its sixteen chapters is prepared by a man well fitted to write that special history of the people and the events of the century gone by.

We can mention the names of only a few of the eminent men and women who visited Hawaii this year: Rev. Dr. H. H. Kelsey, secretary of the American Board for the Pacific Coast District, and Rev. J. K. Browne, D. D., of the American Board, and for many years missionary in Turkey; Dr. G. A. Johnstone Ross on his "Sabbatical year" from Union Theological Seminary; Fred B. Smith, the evangelist, for ten days while on his way to the Orient in the interest of International Friendship and Goodwill; Rev. and Mrs. James L. Barton, D. D., secretary of the A. B. C. F. M., who passed through Honolulu November 20th, on their return from China and Japan, and emphasized the fact that China must have educated Christian leadership. Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army spent a few days here in January, and in February, Miss Mary Woolley of Mt. Holyoke College was welcomed on her way from the Orient.

The Pan-Pacific Educational Congress, held in Honolulu, August 11th, with its influence for peace and international good-will, was a great success. The Cousins' part in the entertainment was the "Tea" given the delegates when the three H. M. C. S. houses were thrown open to the visitors and an old-time school for primitive natives was held in the old Chamberlain House. This school was presided over by Miss Ethel Damon, as teacher, and among the visitors were Rev. H. P. Judd as missionary, Mrs. W. F. Frear as one of the "Mothers," and Rev. A. Akana as king, dressed in his royal feather cloak.

The Pan-Pacific Press Congress, afterwards organized as The World's Press Congress, spent three weeks of October in Honolulu, closing November 1st. Their work was intensive and their pleasures were strenuous, for every day they were entertained with excursions, pageants, sight-seeing, dinners and teas. On Friday, October 14th the Hawaiian Mission Childrens' Society gave an afternoon tea on their beautiful lawn, when the delegates were shown a replica of the first printing-press on Hawaii, with a tableau representing the first sheet of printing taken off, January 7, 1822, by Chief Keeaumoku in presence of the printer, Elisha Loomis, Rev. Hiram Bingham and others. This noted company left with a warm tribute to "The World's Press Congress in Hawaii," highest praise for the high standard of the Honolulu newspapers and unmeasured thanks for hospitality received.

THE SCHOOLS.

Our record of the schools during the past year is very brief, partly because there have been few remarkable changes to call for mention, and a school, like a garden flourishes best when there are no storms, no droughts to distract attention from the daily routine of mellowing the soil, planting proper seed, watering and sheltering the young plants, cutting out diseased branches and destroying evil germs. Such seems to have been the work done by excellent teachers throughout all the schools.

Maunaolu began the year with a new principal, Miss May E. Nance, who with our cousin, Mrs. M. Grace Haven and other faithful teachers have done good work in developing character and creating in the girls a love for the school and for right living. They have made it a home for the girls. Maunaolu also began the year with a new school room, a new dispensary and new bathrooms. We have not heard the plans for the coming year.

Kohala Girls' School rejoices over the completion of one unit of the long desired new building, but the confusion of having the work go on during term time and the presence of the workmen on the girls' school grounds, was a disturbing factor. The addition of a ninth grade to the course of study without an adequate supply of teachers was more than the conscientious, faithful but overburdened principal, Miss Elizabeth Brewster, could endure, and a nervous breakdown followed. Mrs. T. C. Williams, wife of the Kohala pastor, has been acting principal since the holidays.

Hilo Boys' Boarding School received from the Government \$5000 and a quit-claim deed to $33\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land which it occupies, in lieu of $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres given to the High School. But a bit of late news, just received, supersedes all other news from the school, and that is the resignation of President and Mrs. L. C. Lyman, for twenty-five years in charge of the school founded in 1836 by Mr. Lyman's grandfather, Rev. D. B. Lyman.

Mr. George M. Hargrave of Covina, California, will be the new principal. Mr. Lyman will continue to have charge of the financial matters as treasurer, and will be an advisory trustee with more power than any of the other trustees.

Mid-Pacific Institute, consisting of Kawaiahao Seminary, a protege of the Cousins as far back as 1864, and Mills School for boys, had a prosperous year. Rev. John L. Hopwood was president of the united schools; John F. Nelson continued as principal of Mills School, and a new principal, Miss Mildred L. Smith had charge of Kawaiahao. These have been working up changes all through the year preparatory to a readjustment. The girls were permitted to attend the High School classes at Mills. There were 152 pupils in the High School, and 132 in the grammar grades.

Now the startling news comes that Mid-Pacific Institute is to be a co-educational school, the high-school classes meeting at Wilcox Hall and the grammar grades at Atherton Hall. To the present thirty teachers, five new teachers will be added, a high-school teacher, a nurse, a matron, a music teacher and a teacher of manual training. Much attention will be given to Domestic Arts and to Manual Training.

Punahou's eighty-first year has been a very successful one with 1062 students enrolled and a faculty of 70 teachers. L. C. Howland has been acting president since the resignation of A. F. Griffiths after 20 years of service.

The new year will open with the new president, Arthur A. Hauck, in charge and sixteen additional teachers. They hope to have a children's librarian in the Cooke Library to tell stories and to teach the children how to use the 20,500 volumes in the library. Under the James B. Castle trust fund plans are being made for a new department which will include manual and household arts, and agriculture. Music will continue to be emphasized, as in the past year.

Kamehameha schools were prosperous during the year, with 350 students in attendance—159 in the boys' school, 114 in the girls' school, and 72 in the preparatory. Rev. E. T. Sherman, former associate pastor of Central Union Church, has been chaplain for the school.

The year will open in September with Pres. E. C. Webster again in charge, Mr. W. E. Givens, former principal of McKinley High School, as principal of the boys' school and Miss Abbie Newton, now returned from her Sabbatical vacation, spent partly in Europe, as principal of the girls' school.

As the curriculum of study last year included a 10th grade, the 11th grade or junior high school work will be added next, and each year will include a new course till the whole high school course of study has been taken into the curriculum. Another thing adopted by the trustees has been the pensioning of the teachers after a certain number of years of teaching. A summer school is to be held from June 26th to July 28th, where will be taught woodwork, forging, electricity and machine work, also sewing, cooking and piano.

The public schools have been very full. Many have taken part in the agricultural contest and some have taken prizes in the agricultural exhibits. There has also been rivalry in some of the schools as to the quality of English spoken, and a central school is recommended where only those can attend who can stand a test in pure English speech.

The Normal School has just graduated 110 students and 134 received diplomas at the McKinley High School.

The Dental Infirmary graduated a large first class, all of whom will be on the pay roll next year for teaching the little folks how to care for their teeth. This Dental School is Mrs. G. R. Carter's contribution to the advanced ideas in our educational system, and bids fair to be a success.

Lahainaluna School, at its 91st Commencement, graduated 35 boys. The new principal, Charles S. Putnam, has been a live wire in inciting the boys to industrial habits. The school closed with an enrollment of 87 boys, some of whom will remain at the school during summer vacation and take care of the sugar cane which is growing, as a part of their agricultural training. Dr. A. L. Dean, of the University of Hawaii, delivered the address of the day, and the program included an olden-time Hawaiian luau.

The University of Hawaii had an enrollment of 404 students with a faculty numbering 41. Fifteen members of the Senior class received this June the degree of "Bachelor of Science," four became "Bachelors of Art," and two received the degree of "Master of Arts." Last year there were eleven graduates.

The boys' dormitory has been built during the year and the cafeteria, besides the swimming tank. The women's dormitory will be erected this summer and the students will have the full use of the new science building recently built by the territory for physics, chemistry and sugar technology.

President A. L. Dean announces that nine new courses are to be added by the University and there will be two additions to the faculty. Rev. Akaiko Akana is one of the new regents.

THE ROLL-CALL OF COUSINS.

To those Cousins who so materially helped in gathering statistics for the enlarged roll-call this year, we are very grateful. There are more of these records than we dared hope for. A few families seem to have a complete account, while others lack only one or two branches from the family tree. This omission, of course, lowers the record of the whole family, and we are hoping that next year those who did not respond will send in their family statistics, including full names, with dates and places of birth, marriage and death. We are looking forward to the time when the whole grove of 75 missionary trees will stand complete,—with branches, branchlets, twigs and foliage.

With these statistics have come some interesting and loving letters from absent Cousins of the third and fourth generations. From these and other letters we cull short extracts for our family letter.

Alexander (W. P.).—William Douglas Alexander was one of the guests at the De Witt Alexander wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Alexander made a trip to California in June with their daughter Mary Douglas to witness the marriage of their second son, Arthur De Witt, to Miss Edith Dohrman of New York. De Witt Alexander is associated with the firm of Robinson, Bours and Nowell, public accountants in San Francisco, and has been awarded the degree of "Certified Public Accountant" by the State of California.—William P. Alexander, with his family, moved to Ewa, Oahu, a year ago, where he has the position of Agriculturist for Ewa Plantation. Their second son, Benjamin Bond Alexander, was born November 14, 1921.—Herman Hillebrand Alexander left Yale in August, having finished the Sophomore year. He then spent a half year in taking a special course at the University of Hawaii, and is now in the employ of the Bank of Hawaii.

Miss Agnes Alexander is still in Japan and Miss Mary has returned to France.

Mr. Wallace Alexander has been made president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.—Miss Annie Alexander, when last we heard, was off on an excursion, "camping up in the mountains north of Barstow, looking for fossil remains of horses, camels, mastodons, etc., with quite good success. This (March) is the time of the year to be in the desert—before the heat of the summer season."—Miss Patty Waterhouse spent her winter holidays (from Wellesley College) in enjoying all manner of winter sports in the mountains.—The dedication of the Elizabeth Pinder Waterhouse swimming pool was a great event at Punahou in January.

Mrs. Henry Alexander was on the sick list for a time this year, but is again her cheery self.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dickey visited the Islands in December and January, and Mrs. Dickey was a representative at the dedication of the "Community House," the transformed early Alexander home at Waioli, Kauai. She had such a delightful visit on Kauai that when she reached her daughter's home in Honolulu she fell ill, and not until after the holidays was she able to meet her old friends at a luncheon at Mrs. Dole's beautiful home. Later she accompanied her sister, Mrs. Baldwin, to Maui, and in February she returned to Oakland at the call of their daughter Grace, Mrs. Merrill, whose youngest son had just died after a long illness. Our faithful and valued treasurer, Lyle A. Dickey of Kauai, gives us an occasional call in Honolulu.

A letter from Mrs. Helen Alexander, from Portland, Ore., in March, said she had had a double dose of bronchitis; Fred and Jane, her son and his wife, had been down with "flu," and Nell in New York had also had flu; but that now the robins were singing and spring had come.

The Alexanders come next to the Judds in the number of descendants, there being 89 in all,—three of the 2nd generation, twenty-seven of the 3rd, fifty-six of the 4th and three of the 5th generation. Two of these trace their ancestry through four families of missionaries.

Andrews (L.).—Robert W. Andrews has, since January, been too ill to go to the office at the Old Mission House, but keeps in close touch with the Recorder's work and with everything pertaining to the Society. Just now he is preparing the photographic "cuts" for easy reference, hoping to add this contribution to the letter-portfolios, portfolios of copperplate engravings, the "picture-pillar," various books and The Big Book of genealogies, previously prepared for the Cousins. At Christmas time he resigned as treasurer of Mae-mae Sunday school, having given up the superintendency a year ago. He and Mrs. Andrews have been doing work most of the year at the Old Mission Home office, while their brother, Rev. B. T. Sheeley, since February 1st, is in charge of the Library in the Chamberlain House.—Carl B. Andrews, Professor of Civil Engineering in the University of Hawaii, has as an avocation just now, chickens. Mrs. J. K. Merrill, Mrs. Carl's mother, who has been visiting them for about a year and a half, leaves early in April for her home on the mainland.

Lorrin Andrews, member of the House of Representatives and chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee, left Honolulu in December and has gone into business in Los Angeles, Calif.

He was married, December 30th, in San Francisco, to Miss Amy S. Busley, and their home is in Hollywood, near Los Angeles.—Lorrin Andrews, Jr., is a student in the University of Hawaii and a member of Central Union Church choir.—Mrs. William Andrews, who spent a year and a half in Honolulu, has returned to Brooklyn, N. Y., where she lives with her daughters; but she longs for the “velvet air” of Hawaii.—Miss Mabel is in business in Brooklyn, but many odd minutes are spent with her pen. In St. Nicholas, of December, 1921, are published some of her bedroom rhymes for children.—Miss Ethel Andrews, who came to Honolulu in July to accompany her mother home, has been a household angel in the home of her brother, Thomas S. Andrews, whose little son William was for a time very ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Fernow with little Constance, left Milwaukee, Wis., in September, as Mr. Fernow is professor in the Sibley College of Engineering, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Mrs. Mary (Andrews) Nott is with her daughters in her Oakland home;—Sarah, the sunshine of the household and short story writer; Mary, whose little coupe is the connecting link between her mother's smile and the daughter's translation of it into sweet melody for her little music pupils; and Anne Brigman, who “has attained a permanent claim to fame in the class of pictorialists.” Elizabeth, Mrs. Hough, has been visiting her mother recently. Lorrin and family live in Oakland, near by. William, with wife and two daughters, is in the South, as is also Robert, and little Robert Nott, Jr.—W. L. Hardy is in business on Fort Street, Honolulu.

The living descendants of Rev. Lorrin and Mary A. Wilson Andrews number 40,—two of the 2nd generation, nineteen of the 3rd and nineteen of the 4th generation.

Andrews (S. L.).—Miss Winifred Andrews is the only living descendant of Dr. and Mrs. Seth L. Andrews, of the 8th company of missionaries.—No word has come direct from Miss Winifred P. Andrews, daughter of Dr. George P. Andrews, for many years a resident of Honolulu, but Dr. Albert Lyons in a family letter speaks of her as he does of his daughter,—so we know she is among “our own.”

Andrews (C. B.).—Miss Lucy Andrews writes that Dr. and Mrs. Shepard “had a furlough (in America) of six months last summer, made necessary by the strain of war,” but he reached Aintab again December 3, and says he will “never cease to be thankful for his rapid return to Aintab,” and he writes his cousin, Miss Lorraine Andrews, that they have commenced hospital work. They find it hard because many of the Americans are leaving. He has only one American nurse and five Armenians, and no pharmacist. But he adds, “In spite of these difficulties we are glad to be here. The people need us very much, and there is as good a field here for loving service to change the hearts of people as in any place I know of in the world.” Dr. and Mrs. Shepard had a son, Frederick Douglas Shepard, born to them in Aintab, March 8, 1922. Dr. Shepard's sister Alice, of Harpoot, whose husband, Ernest Riggs, is now one of the secretaries of the A. B. C. F. M., is now living at Arlington, near Boston, and near to Mr. Riggs' mother and sister.—Miss Lucy sends a genealogical list of the C. B. Andrews family to the third and fourth generation, giving a number of names and dates never inserted in The Big Book, and some even that never appeared in the annual Report list.—Mrs. Luella Andrews Kilborne has two sons and one daughter, all married, and four grandchildren whose names will appear on another page.—In January a letter came from Miss Lorraine Andrews, only daughter of the late Lorrin A. Andrews, now living at 1809 Euclid Ave., Berkeley, Calif., with her mother. She is busy teaching again in the Intermediate High School after two years at the Y. W. C. A. She asks for an Annual Report of 1921, which tells so much about her aunt, Mrs. Shepard, and about her father and friends.—A letter from Mrs. Mabel Andrews Barber says that her father, Samuel Chester Andrews, deceased, has two daughters living, Louise Andrews Innes and herself. She has one son, Clarence Andrews Barber, born April 24, 1908, and her sister has three children, Rosabelle, aged 10 years, Beatrice, aged 5 years, and Robert, aged 2½ years.

There are 25 living descendants of Rev. Claudius B. and Ann S. Andrews,—two of the 2nd generation, nine of the 3rd and fourteen of the 4th generation.

Armstrong (R.).—Of W. N. Armstrong's family, we hear that M. C. Armstrong has retired from active business in Hampton, Va., and his brother, M. K. Armstrong, has left Chicago, and taken his brother's place in the firm at Hampton.—Of S. C. Armstrong's family, we learn that Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scoville and their children are in Hampton, where Mr. Scoville has been for years, secretary of Hampton Institute. For some reason Mrs. Talbot's H. M. C. S. report was returned from 156 5th Ave., N. Y. City. We hear that two of her five children, daughters, have recently graduated from Chicago University. Mr. Daniel W. Armstrong is living in New Jersey and is Inspector of all vessels of the Standard Oil Company entering the port of New York. He and his wife, Eunice Taylor Armstrong, have two daughters, Mary Taylor Armstrong, born in Boston in 1918, and Louise, born December 4, 1920.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howe are at Watertown, Conn., where Mr. Howe is a trainer of boys in the Taft School. They have three children, Alice Armstrong Howe, Harold Howe and Arthur Howe, Jr., the latter born July 18, 1921.—B. R. Banning accompanied his aunt, Mrs. Ellen Weaver, to the 70th Annual Meeting of the Cousins.—Mrs. Ellen Armstrong Weaver returned to Honolulu in time to add her interesting reminiscences to the occasion. She had been living in Oakland, where she often met old friends—Mary Nott, Lucilla Bates Smith, and others—and had many a chat and laugh with them over old escapades. In January her daughter Clarisse, (Mrs. Morgan Akin Jones), came to visit her in California, and they decided that she would be happier in Honolulu; and so she came, in March.—Mrs. Philip Weaver returned from the States in November, where she had been for some months. Her daughter Ida accompanied her to Pennsylvania and returned with her as far as Berkeley, where she remained with her sister Mary and entered classes in the University of California. Since Mrs. Weaver's return she and Mr. Weaver have been occupying the home of Miss Burbank, who is now in California, expecting to return with Mrs. Philip Dodge in May.

There are 35 living members of the Armstrong family,—one of the 2nd generation, ten of the 3rd, twenty-one of the 4th and three of the 5th generation.

Bailey (E.).—Letters have been received from Mrs. Susie Mae Zumwalt and from Miss Caroline Bailey.—Of Edward Bailey's family we have no report this year, as we have lost the address of the only member with whom we have been in touch.—Of Horatio's family we learn that George has been ill and in March was convalescing at the home of C. A. Bailey's sister-in-law in Oakland.—Mrs. Mae Zumwalt has sent out for our family tree a well filled out Horatio Bailey branch. She is still in Atlanta, Ga., with her daughter Madeline McGarrigle and family. Her son, John, "has been transferred from the S. P. R. R. office in San Francisco to Red Rock, Arizona, where he is in charge of the office as well as of all the construction contracts and pay roll. His wife and daughter are with him, and all are experiencing the novelty of living in a box-car house. Captain McGarrigle is still very busy with his University work and answering Charles Jr.'s questions. Capt. McGarrigle's little niece, four years old, is with us this winter, and is a wonderful companion for Charles. We are much interested in the report that Harry Baldwin may be sent to Washington to take Kuhio's place, and to care for the interests of our beloved Hawaii Nei as only Harry can."—Miss Caroline writes that although her "mother is ill with the grippe just now, she and Daddy keep about the same most of the time; in fact I think they are a little better than they were, and this is as quiet and pleasant a place as possible for those who absolutely must pay for every exertion. The library has been beating its own circulation records lately and the librarian is consequently very proud, very busy and pretty weary. I am hoping to get substitute work in Honolulu library so as to have a few months change on the Islands; so it is just possible I may see you. I think the sea, the swimming and the change would make me over.—Mrs. James Bailey, (Aunt Lou), is still with her son Austin, on Walnut Street, Berkeley. We hear that Preble, Charles G.'s eldest son, is doing very well for a boy of his age, with the Western Union. Minnie Bailey Bazata and husband and daughter Elizabeth live about eight miles from Los Gatos, above Saratoga, where they look out over the Santa Clara valley, so lovely these spring days." Elizabeth is a junior in the Palo Alto High School and proposes to enter Mills.—Mr. William Bailey, Jr., lost his little boy last year. We extend sympathy.

We find a total of 44 living descendants of Edward and Caroline Bailey, who came in the 8th company,—one of the 2nd generation, ten of the 3rd, thirty-two of the 4th, and one of the 5th generation.

Baldwin (D.).—Statistical letters have been received from Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, William A. Baldwin and Mrs. Mary (Baldwin) Murdock, which with the data already at hand make a complete record.—Mrs. Lois G. Baldwin, widow of D. D. Baldwin, still lives at Haiku, Maui, near her son, William Atwater Baldwin ("Willow"), his wife and their two children, Frances and William Prime Baldwin. Mrs. Lillian (Baldwin) Atwater, widow of the late Frank E. Atwater, also lives at Haiku.—Erdman Dwight Baldwin, Civil Engineer, Wailuku Sugar Co., has two children, Dwight V., of Makaweli, Kauai, and Miss Jessie, whose engagement to Lieut. Hardy Hill has just been announced. Miss Jessie was for two years a kindergartner on Maui and this year has been director of the play ground on Bere-tania Street, Honolulu.—Charles W. Baldwin, principal of the Kaahumanu School, Honolulu, has two children, Olive Lowe and Charles Morris Baldwin.—Mrs. Ellen M Baldwin, widow of the late Lincoln Mansfield Baldwin, of Wailuku, Maui, has seven children living, the eldest of whom was married, in San Francisco, September 10, to Kenneth Smith, a business man of Anaheim, California.—Winifred M. married, in 1896, Dr. John Weddick, and has one child living, Winifred Jane Weddick, of Wailuku, who has just announced her engagement to Douglas F. N. Brewster.—Benjamin Douglas Baldwin, manager of Hawaiian Sugar Co. and postmaster at Makaweli, Kauai, has three sons living. The eldest son, Douglas Elmer, of Kahuku plantation, Oahu, is married and has a son, Benjamin Harry, a member of our Society. His brothers, Paul and Cedric, have been attending the State Agricultural College at Davis, California.

Mrs. H. P. Baldwin gives a record of her eight children, her 24 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, and also of her father's family, the Alexanders. Hers was the first answer to the circular letter and very encouraging, but is too long to publish. Since then all Hawaii has been stirred over the election of her son, Harry Baldwin, to the position of Delegate from Hawaii to Washington, made vacant by the death of Kuhio Kalanianoʻe. He was elected by an overwhelming majority.—Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, of Haiku, returned in June, 1921, from an extended visit to the mainland.—F. F. Baldwin and his eldest son, Edward, went to the Coast in September.—Mrs. Samuel Baldwin (Kathrine Smith), left in September for a tour in Australia and New Zealand.

The Baldwins are working hard,—gathering statistics and collecting items and incidents for the local Centennial celebration, to be held at Lahaina in 1923.

There are 84 descendants of Dr. and Mrs. Baldwin, who arrived in the 4th company. One only is left of the 2nd generation, twenty-one of the 3rd, fifty-eight of the 4th and four of the 5th generation.

Bingham (H.).—The circular letter brought a reply from Hiram Bingham Moseley, living at Castle Rock, Colorado. He says, "I was 75 years old the 24th of August, 1921, and have never been sick since childhood, but it is almost impossible for me to write a letter these latter days, and then only with a lead pencil. I would like to employ a person to think and write for me. I was in my young days a school teacher and a writing teacher, but it is all over with me now. I am half blind. I was a student at the Michigan State Normal College in 1872. I am a bachelor and live alone. My brother, Prof. Edwin Moseley, expects to start for Honolulu in June, this year. I have a sister living in Honolulu."—Mrs. Clara Moseley Sutherland gives us the names of the descendants of Rev. Hiram Bingham by Sophia Bingham Moseley. There are four of the 3rd generation, seven of the 4th generation and seven of the 5th. Mrs. Sutherland also gave the names of four of the 3rd generation of the Reynolds branch.—Hiram Bingham III wrote in March from 2025 Brickell Avenue, Miami, Florida, giving the names and dates and places of birth of his seven boys. His two oldest boys are now in Yale, three are at Groton School, one is at Hamden Hall, and the youngest is at school in New Haven. "Most of them are coming to spend the Easter holidays with us and their grandmother here in Miami." He writes that they have bought a place on the slopes of Haleakala, and he hopes "to get back to the Islands at frequent intervals in the future." Last summer he and his family spent some months on Maui. He said, "I never realized the fact that in the Koolau ditch trail the territory possesses a scenic attraction of unbelievable beauty!" Much more he said in commendation of Maui views,—high praise from one who had spent months in the fastnesses of Peru and the Andes Mountains.—Mr. and Mrs. Ideler left in June for a continued study of their chosen art on the mainland. Leaving with delightful expectations it was a sad message that recalled them to California—the serious illness and death of their bright little son, John Anthony Ideler, eighteen months old.

There are 42 or 44 descendants of Hiram and Sybil Bingham,—nine of the 3rd generation, twenty-four or twenty-six of the 4th and nine of the 5th generation.

Bishop (A.).—Dr. John S. Bishop and his excellent wife still reside at Forest Grove, Oregon, and their home last summer was a rendezvous for the family clan. Mrs. Della Bishop Shaw spent the summer there, visiting her cousin, Mrs. Helen Hillebrand Dalton in Seattle on the way; and Miss Margaret Shaw, a teacher at Vassar, was two weeks with her mother while on a botanical excursion from Chicago to the Rocky Mountains. Miss Helen Bishop spent three weeks at home, on vacation from Ann Arbor, Michigan. Mrs. Shaw returned in the autumn, and with Miss Ruth, who is now Secretary to the Principal of the Normal School, is living again on McKinley Street, Manoa, next door to Jessie (Mrs. Thomas A. Fisher), and her husband, and little Havrah, who is quite a sturdy boy. Mrs. Fisher has been quite successful with a class of little folk, in teaching them and making them love her own loved specialty, art.—In February Dr. Bishop responded to the circular letter with a chart showing 17 living descendants of Rev. Artemas and Elizabeth Edwards Bishop.

Bond (E.).—The children of Mrs. Ellen (Bond) Bicknell entertained for their mother's eightieth birthday on Saturday, September 29, by giving "a tea,"—a most delightful occasion where many of the old friends mingled with the new. The guests were charmingly served by daughters and daughters-in-law, assisted by the happy grandchildren,—daughters of the third generation.

Mr. B. Howell Bond, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. B. D. Bond of Kohala, Hawaii, was married, December 14, in Central Union Church, to Miss Hazel Beatrice Hoffman. They went to the Volcano, spent Christmas at Kohala and are making their home at the Colonial Hotel, planning to build in Manoa Valley.—Mrs. Alice Bond Alexander and her husband, William P. Alexander, welcomed a second son into their household, Benjamin Bond Alexander.—J. Douglas Bond returned from Louisiana State College, where he has been studying sugar technology. He is a graduate of Punahou and holds a B. A. and M. A. degree from the University of Michigan. He came to Honolulu to take six months of actual study and work on sugar production, at the University of Hawaii. He is now night chemist at Ewa Plantation.

William L. Bond writes, "We moved to West Branch from Fair View in order to give our boys better school advantages, but we spend the summer vacations on the Fair View ranch. Mail addressed to either postoffice reaches us all right. Berle graduated from the University (Ann Arbor) last June. With his diploma he received also a teacher's life certificate, and he is now teaching in the High School at Harbor Springs, Michigan. His mind, however, is set on farming and he is not likely to teach longer than another year.—Gerald graduated from the High School here this spring and thinks of teaching for a year or two.—Frank, thirteen years old, is only six feet tall, has a hearty appetite and is doing good work at school. Wish we could be present and answer the roll-call in April. Aloha."

The Bonds, as far as we can estimate, rank 21st in the number of living descendants, their total number being 34.

Castle (S. N.).—Mr. B. L. Marx, president of the Honolulu Art Society, and Mrs. Marx, who returned from an extended visit on the mainland nearly a year ago, have added much to the pleasure of music-loving Honoluluans. Miss Castle, also, has been enjoying her Kaimuki home this year.

Mrs. Coleman's face has seemed especially radiant of late, for her son, Samuel Northrup Castle, and wife, have returned for a time, and with the grandson, Northrup Haviland Castle, they are a happy band.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Castle and Miss Beatrice enjoyed a mainland trip from September to December. Miss Beatrice was one of those whose quaint costume and demure ways so fittingly represented, at the Educational Association in August, the young womanhood of Hawaii in the early days.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Castle and children also made a trip to the States.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Castle were made happy in September by a cablegram announcement of the arrival of a second granddaughter, Joan Tozzer; and in November their daughter Dorothy returned to her home in Honolulu.

Mr. Harold K. L. Castle, who is putting up a fine residence at Mokapu, has been made a trustee of Oahu College. His father, the late James B. Castle, left by his will the sum of $317,000 for a school of agriculture and the domestic arts, which will be administered by Oahu College.

Mr. Westervelt was elected Corresponding Secretary of the Hawaiian Historical Society. Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt and Andrew spent the summer at their summer residence on Hawaii, near Kilauea volcano, but Mrs. Westervelt has had a strenuous year, working for and accomplishing great things for the Near East Relief.

Prof. and Mrs. Mead spent two months in Honolulu and returned in August to Chicago. In July their little granddaughter, Cynthia Tufts Mead, came to the home of their son, Henry Albert Mead and his wife, in Chicago.

Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle spent a couple of months in Honolulu. She is engaged in a very important department of Educational work in Chicago.—Her daughter, Miss Elinor Castle, was married, Nov. 17, to Mr. John Ulric Nef, son of the late Dr. J. U. Nef, head of the Chemistry Department of the University of Chicago.

There are 52 living descendants of Father Castle,—six of the 2nd generation, sixteen of the 3rd, twenty-eight of the 4th and two of the 5th.

Chamberlain (L.).—Of the family of Levi Chamberlain, the voluminous writer and indefatigable worker who arrived as Secular Agent in the first reinforcement in 1823, there remain 35 living descendants—ten of Warren Chamberlain's family, five of Jones' family, eight of the Forbes, and twelve Lymans; or 13 of the 3rd generation, 21 of the 4th, and 1 of the 5th.

Rev. H. W. Chamberlain and wife are still enjoying life at Aloha Farm, R. F. D. No. 1, Hastings, Mich.—W. W. Chamberlain, trustee of Punahou schools, is taking great interest in the new "Elizabeth P. Waterhouse Swimming Tank," and with his son Warren was one of the contestants in the "Father and Sons' Race" at the opening. The securing of a new president to take the place of Mr. A. F. Griffiths has been a great responsibility for the trustees. Mrs. W. W. Chamberlain made a trip to the Coast in June to visit her mother. Warren, at the age of 15 as tall as his father, is in the eighth grade at Punahou Academy, and his sister, Clio, is in the seventh.—Mr. Chamberlain's sister, Mrs. Helen (Chamberlain) Ives, came to Honolulu from Pecatonica, Ill., in June, after an absence of twenty years, and is really enjoying her childhood's home. She says she is getting better acquainted with the lives of her grandfather and her Aunt Mattie and other relatives, whom she is learning deeply to appreciate. Mrs. Ives' daughter, Mary Alice Ives, was married in September to Mr. Harold Irvin Sumner, of Pecatonica, Ill., and her son, Charles Ives, Jr., is in business in Oak Park and living in the family of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Spooner.

Mrs. James P. Chamberlain is at Mt. Vernon, Or., with her son.—Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Aiken went to the Coast on business and pleasure, where they spent some months, returning late in February. Their daughter, Martha, is at school at Castilleja, Calif. Bertram, their oldest son, is in Honolulu, being "Emergency Electrician" at Pearl Harbor Naval Station. The 10-year-old son, Malcolm, accompanied his mother to the Coast.

Clark (E. W.).—The living descendants of E. W. Clark, much to our surprise, number 84, being exceeded only by the Judds and Alexanders. Of all that clan, however, there were only five present at the 70th anniversary, as there are not many living in Honolulu. Some of these names have never appeared in The Big Book nor in the Annual Report.

Ann Eliza Clark Gulick, the only Clark left in the second generation, though almost 89 years of age, is active in mind and body and interested in present-day activities as well as in the past;—the admiration and wonder of all her friends.

Mrs. Margaret Scott Hughes, of the Alvah Clark branch, was general chairman for the lawn party dramatization of the Book of Ruth, in June, 1921, on the new Central Union Church grounds.

The Austin family seems to be branching out into such varied names and occupations that we are quite bewildered, and hope they may soon all be gathered under the Cousins' care and accept and give the Cousins' aloha.—Mr. Herbert A. R. Austin is resident City Engineer.—Miss Margaret Austin, who was at Punahou last year, is now teaching a Chinese kindergarten near the Bowery, New York City.—Mrs. A. S. Baker (Hattie Austin), escapes home cares and Kalihi Union pastoral duties sometimes to take an active part in Central Union Woman's Board of Missions.

Mr. Ernest Clark and family now live at Kahala, the fashionable beach resort. Mr. Clark and his son, Montgomery, were contestants at the Father and Sons' contest in swimming at the opening of the Elizabeth P. Waterhouse Swimming Tank at Punahou. Montgomery has been promoted to the rank of School Lieutenant in the Punahou military cadets. He is also a member of the football team.

For nearly a whole year we have been missing our brave, cheery Cousin, Mrs. Lu Clark Severance, who made her last Sabbath-day journey on July 10, 1921, when she crossed the river to the Eternal City. Miss Helen Severance, with near and dear friends about her, still occupies the old Severance home, so filled with the personality of her father and mother, and replete with memories of other days.

Mr. William Balding, son-in-law of our late Cousin, A. B. Clark, passed away in May, 1921. Mrs. Balding is living on Judd Street, and her brother, Albert B. Clark, Jr., makes his home with her. Her eldest daughter, Harriet Catalina Balding, was married in February, 1921, to Captain Paul Sheeley Roper, and they now have a daughter, Dorothy Roper. The other daughter, Caroline, has just returned from a visit of a year on the mainland. The two boys are at Punahou, the elder, William Thomas, making a record as a swimmer.

Coan (T.).—Dr. Titus Munson Coan died at his home in New York City on May 8, 1921, and we sadly miss, in this report, his short reminiscent letters, so full of hearty "aloha" to all.

We do not know the whereabouts of his two sons, nor have we heard for some years from his nephew, Raymond C. Coan.

Conde (D. T.).—No word has been received from the Conde Cousins in answer to our circular letter asking for the number of living descendants of Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Conde. Dr. Samuel Conde gave us very accurate statistics of his family years ago. He has three daughters. Mr. Henry T. Conde, we think, has two sons, Mrs. Susan Dickson two daughters, and Mrs. Lucy Conde King one son and two daughters. Mrs. King had also, in 1907, one grandchild, Ralph Waldo Elmer. This makes four of the 2nd generation, ten of the 3rd and one of the 4th generation, or 15 in all. We send out this incomplete list, hoping that some one who knows may correct it and send the information back with dates and places of birth and marriage, and also the dates and places of death of those who have passed on.

Cooke (A. S.).—Mr. and Mrs. J. Platt Cooke returned to Hawaii in July. They spent the previous year in Boston, where Mr. Cooke took a post-graduate course at Harvard after securing his degree from Yale. Here their little daughter Elise was born, on May 2nd, 1921. Mr. Cooke has since become a member of the firm of Alexander and Baldwin.—Henry and Douglas Cooke are at Yale this year. Douglas was slightly burned while rescuing panic-stricken people from a burning moving-picture show at New Haven.—Miss Emily Cooke and her mother have been traveling and visiting on the mainland together.

Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Jr., took her two children to the mainland in September. Miss Carolene was placed at Shipley School, Penn., and her brother Charles, after spending the summer in Hawaii, returned to St. Luke's School in Pennsylvania. Dr. C. M. Cooke, of Bishop Museum, visited Cuba in October.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cooke returned from abroad in October. Their daughter, Miss Anna, is also home again after touring Europe for six months with her mother and sisters. The latter, Dorothea and Martha, have returned to Bryn Mawr. They all had a wonderful visit, taking into their itinerary France, Spain, Italy and Switzerland; seeing Rome, Naples, Pompeii, Florence, Venice, Milan and Lucerne, and in England, Stratford and Kenilworth, and compassing in their own land the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, Washington and New York City.

In October Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke made a trip to the Orient, stopping longest in Japan, and returned in December. In July a little daughter, Dagmar Sorenson, had arrived to make her home with them.

Our retiring president, G. P. Cooke, was made Executive Secretary of the Hawaiian Homes Commission, a post of great responsibility and labor. Mrs. George P. Cooke and three of their six children, Dora, Paul and Judd Cooke, belong to the Punahou orchestra, and afford much pleasure by their sweet harmony. Miss Dora is a member of the Hui Eleu society.

The home-going of our beloved Mrs. Atherton on August 25th left us all very lonely but not grieving over her promotion and welcome into the City that is "pure gold."—Mr. and Mrs. Richards are making their home in Mother Atherton's pretty Manoa residence. Their own home, dedicated for so many years to the service of their Lord and of mankind, has been bought by the Government for an "Annex to the Normal School"—for dormitory purposes. Mrs. Richards, President of the "Woman's Board of Missions of the Pacific Islands," at its celebration in June was unanimously requested to retain the honor and arduous duties of the presidency, as the one best fitted to carry on this first mission work of the Society. Mrs. Richards and daughter Ruth spent a month or two at the Coast, returning in October. Atherton Richards won the tennis championship at the New York Tennis Club Tournament.—On May 16, 1921, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Midkiff (Ruth Richards), lost their little daughter, Mary

Wilson,—a treasure, now sparkling among the jewels of the King.—Mr. Frank C. Atherton was elected vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce in October, to take the place of W. R. Farrington, resigned. Mr. Atherton and family spent the summer at Lake Tahoe and other California resorts, returning in August. Marjorie Atherton is greatly interested in her music at Punahou, and is also an active member of the "Hui Eleu."—Mr. and Mrs. John B. Guard (Juliette Atherton) and family went to the Coast in June—Mrs. Guard and children remaining in the mountains for about three months.

Mr. A. Frank Cooke has been copying some interesting items from his father's journal for "The Friend."

Mrs. Mary Atherton Richards has carefully prepared a genealogical record of the Cooke family, reporting in April, 1922, 83 living descendants of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cooke,—one of the 2nd generation, nineteen of the 3rd, fifty-four of the 4th and nine of the 5th.

Damon (S. C.).—Mr. Henry F. Damon, Secretary of the Bank of Bishop and Co., Ltd., and Mrs. Damon, welcomed on December 20, 1921, a little son, Henry Edward Damon. Heather Damon is now in London.

Mr. Roxor Damon, second vice-president of the Bank of Hawaii, and Mrs. Damon have two children, one of whom, dressed in pantallettes below her sedate dress, attended the School-representation given in the Chamberlain House in August, for the Pan-Pacific Educational Convention.—Miss Ethel Damon is very busy interviewing the older Cousins, searching old letters and finding old pictures, thus accumulating material for a book—"Old Mission Homes"—which she is writing. After her successful write-up of the Mission Home at Waioli, Kauai, published in the November Friend, she had solicitations for other similar narratives, and hence the coming book.—Mrs. Julia Damon Giffard has a warm place in her heart for the Cousins' Society, and has assisted in some of the entertainments for our guests.

On January 30, 1921, the Fort Street Chinese Church celebrated its 40th anniversary, and there were many tributes of love, like the following, to "the beloved Mr. Frank W. Damon, the dear friend and counselor of our people. We mourn his loss; for he was sympathetic, and knew the Chinese characteristics and thoughts more than any one else in Hawaii. He was an indefatigable worker, and it was for our sakes that he worked himself to death." There were many other words of praise and commendation for Mr. and Mrs. Damon.—Mrs. Damon has all her children at home with her again. Last year Miss Daphne was doing library work for the Red Cross in Europe. Mrs. F. W. Putman is one of the committee for the Muriel Kindergarten at Kakaako. Miss Vera is an ideal kindergartner and story-teller, and the children of Waikiki are highly favored. Mr. Cyril Damon, one of our newest members, is assistant secretary of Bishop Trust Co., and Bernard Damon is with the Audit Co. of Hawaii.

We find 23 living descendants of Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Damon,—one of the 2nd generation, fourteen of the 3rd and eight of the 4th.

Dibble (S.).—Mrs. M. Grace P. Haven has recently heard of the homegoing of her aunt, Mrs. Clara Sheldon Dibble Inch, long a widow at Atlantic City, N. Y., where she was lovingly cared for by her only daughter, Miss Agnes Inch. Her son, Robert W. Inch, a lawyer in New York City, was graduated from Princeton College, New Jersey, married Abigail Kingsland, and a son, Kingsland Inch, was born October 11, 1910. Mr. Inch and his wife have been very good to their mother, and the little grandson has been a joy in her later years.

A nephew of Mrs. Haven, James Pierpont Cowperthwaite, graduated from the Officers' Training Camp, U. S. Marine Corps of 1919, at Quantico, Va., was appointed Special Dispatch Agent and Chief Supervisor for the Philadelphia Shipping Board, and later, Manager of the Supervisor and Supercargo Department of the Shipping Board with headquarters at Washington, D. C., and then he sent to California for his mother to come and make a home for him in Washington. Later, in November, 1920, he was married in Philadelphia to Miss Elizabeth Lillian Morkin.

From the family record we find that Rev. Sheldon Dibble has three grandchildren living, Mrs. Cowperthwaite, Mrs. Drum and Mrs. Haven. Mrs. Cowperthwaite has two living children, Mrs. Drum has two, and Mrs. Inch had two children and one grandchild. Mrs. Inch's brother, Mr. Seymour Dibble, had two children, now deceased, and three living grandchildren, Mary Agnes Fleishell, Raymond Fleishell and Vincent Fleishell. In all there are 13 living Dibble descendants.

Dimond (H.).—Mrs. Eleanor Waterhouse Wood says in a letter "I only wish that when you have the Cousins' meeting there may be some way for a roll-call to be taken of the absent ones who are thinking so tenderly of you and are present in spirit." She sends a perfect record of the Julia H. Dimond Waterhouse branch of the Dimond family. There are two in the 3rd generation, three in the 4th, and one in the 5th, Eleanor Jean Wood, daughter of Henry Allyn Wood and Jean Wright Wood, born in March, 1922. Little Eleanor Jean has been made a Cousin, and her fond grandmother is sure she will always be proud of her missionary inheritance. Adding to these six Waterhouses the seven Hobrons and two Dickeys and E. H. Dimond of Honolulu, we have 16, without the San Francisco branches, from whom we have not heard.

Mrs. W. W. Dimond was a visitor in Honolulu last winter.

Dole (D.).—Judge Sanford B. Dole in the May Friend has written a very clear, concise article on "The Evolution of Courts of Law in Hawaii," a paper very valuable to the new voters, who need such helps. Judge Dole's love for Punahou never lags. This year he has been emphasizing "Punahou Spirit," and athletics of all kinds, especially swimming, finds in him an ardent champion.—Dr. Emily Dole supplies the happy atmosphere and companionship, for a time greatly missed in her uncle's home of hallowed memories.

Dr. Kenneth L. Dole was married in San Francisco on August 20th, to Miss Isabella Anne Van Winkle.—Mr. Norman E. Dole in March sent us the statistics of his own family and regretted that he could not attend the roll-call in April.

Mr. W. S. Dole writes, March 5th, from Trinidad, Col.: "Enclosed are the names of all my brothers and sisters and of my nephews and nieces. I wish I could be in Honolulu April 22, but there is no chance. Am going to be very busy with much reconstruction work. Will spend most of the coming spring and summer here and in Albuquerque and Tucson with an occasional trip to Missouri and Louisiana, and at least one trip to New York. I arrived here a week ago from Tucson just in time to run into some 20 degrees below zero weather. In Tucson the cottonwoods were leafing out and the weather much resembled summer. With my best aloha." This was followed by the names of his brothers and sisters, with their marriages, and the names and dates of birth of their children. Mr. Dole's address is "The Trinidad Electrical Transmission Railway and Gas Co., 219-221 W. Main St., Trinidad, Colorado."

Mrs. Marion Dole Jones writes from Burlingame, Calif., which they expect to make their permanent home. Her brothers, Norman and Sanford, also live there. Mrs. Jones sent the same statistical record sent us by her brother, Walter S., thus checking up that list; and with it a record of the Rowell families which we are glad to get, although there seems to be a little discrepancy in the Gay genealogies.

The Doles have one living descendant of the 2nd, 13 of the 3rd and 25 of the 4th generation.

Dwight (S. G.).—The living descendants of S. G. Dwight, if we understand the records sent in, number 13. There are none of the 2nd generation left, but there are eight of the 3rd and five of the 4th generation. If we are in error please let us know that we may rectify it on the books as soon as possible.

Charles Bishop Dwight, Jr., youngest son of the late Charles B. Dwight, was chosen by Delegate Kuhio as his secretary, and spent the past year at Washington, D. C.

Emerson (J. S.).—Mr. Arthur W. Emerson, son of the late Dr. N. B. Emerson, returned in November to Honolulu, after years spent in New York City. He gave up his studio, where he was a painter of portraits and landscapes, and returned to comfort his mother, who was left very lonely by the death of her sister, Miss Harriet Peirce, also a member of the Cousin band. In December Mr. Emerson placed a group of pretty miniatures, enclosed in old-style frames, on exhibition in Wichman's jewelry store. Mr. Emerson may open a studio in Honolulu or he may take his mother with him to the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Emerson spent part of the summer vacation at Kilauea to be with their son, Oliver H. Emerson, who was taking his vacation from Harvard University at Kilauea, assisting Mr. Jaggard in his research work at the volcano. It was a delightful outing for them all.

Rev. O. P. Emerson writes from his home in Brookline, Mass., that the winter has been a pleasant one and that he and Mrs. Emerson have been well and enjoying their own home again. He is pleasantly occupied in writing up the life of his father and mother. His brother Justin and his wife have been spending the winter at Asheville, N. C. Mr. Oliver Emerson says that his brother has recently become more feeble; that his son Philip is still in the Navy—Chief Engineer on the U. S. S. Wadsworth, now stationed at Mare Island, Calif.; and that Ralf has recently been appointed Librarian in charge of the Public Library in Jackson, Mich.—Oliver Hudleston is developing vigorously in the New England climate and is much interested in his course of study at Harvard.

We find in our extended roll-call this year that there are 9 living descendants of Rev. John S. and Ursula S. Newell Emerson,—three in the 2nd generation, five in the 3rd, and one great-grandchild,—one of the 4th generation.

Forbes (C.).—The second generation of the Forbes family have all passed on, and of the third generation only three remain. These have "pursued the even tenor of their way," busy, happy and useful members of society.—W. J. Forbes, a Notary Public in Kauikeolani Building, Miss Harriet, a Secretary with Alexander and Baldwin, and Miss Maria, the home-maker. Of the fourth generation we shall hear more anon.—Theodore Forbes is a sophomore at Oberlin College, wrestling with Calculus and advanced Physics. He spent his second Christmas vacation with the Ewing family. Mrs. Ewing, daughter of Rev. William B. Oleson of blessed memory, being an old friend of the family. Frederick Forbes will graduate at Punahou Academy in June and he hopes to join his brother at Oberlin next year. He is a member of the foot-ball team at Punahou. Miss Marion, in view of the rare advantages to be had in that department this year, is giving much time and attention to music, in which she is making marked progress.

Green (J. S.).—Miss Laura Green is back in beautiful Manoa on Lanihuli Drive. While living on Nuuanu Ave. she spent ten days with Mrs. May Wilcox and Miss Mary Parker at Kaneohe, at the Wilcox beach house beyond the Pali.—Miss Laura's niece, Miss Mabel Green, youngest daughter of Frank C. Green, was married, Feb. 8, 1922, to Mr. Charles Bard, at Beverly, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer spent the months of January and February in touring New Zealand. Miss Caroline Green accompanied them on their trip. She has been re-elected Librarian for the Hawaiian Historical Society.

There are 12 living descendants of the Rev. Jonathan S. Green,—one of the 2nd generation, nine of the 3d and two of the 4th generation.

Gulick (P. J.).—The extended roll-call recorded 50 living descendants of Rev. and Mrs. P. J. Gulick, five of whom were of the second generation; but since the spring-time has awakened the world to new life, one of these, Rev. William H. Gulick, has shaken off the cumbersome handicap of mortality and entered a freer and gladder service above.

Sidney L. Gulick, eldest son of Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, writes from 105 E. 22nd St., and as his letter is so very concise, we quote the following: "My father was Luther Halsey Gulick. My brothers are Edward Leeds and Luther H., the latter having passed away in August, 1919. My sisters are Mrs. F. F. Jewett (Frances), and Mrs. Cyrus A. Clark (Hattie). Brother Edward has 4 children, Luther 4 children, Hattie 4 children, but my sister, Mrs. Jewett, has none. I have 5 children; Sue Fisher, born Dec. 14, 1888, Luther Halsey, born Jan. 17, 1892, Leeds, born Feb. 3, 1894, Ethel born Dec. 20, 1898 and Sidney L., born Aug. 17, 1902. Sue and Luther are married. Sue has 3 children and Luther 1. Leeds has recently gone to Japan as a missionary of the American Board. Ethel is a senior in Oberlin and Sidney, Jr.; is a junior also in Oberlin College. My wife is Cara Fisher and we were married Sep. 14, 1887, and have spent most of our lives in Japan as missionaries of the American Board. I am now Secretary of the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America."—Rev. Edward Leeds Gulick writes of the marriage of his daughter, Helen Farnsworth Gulick, to Donald S. King, son of President King of Oberlin College, and of the arrival of a grandson, Ralph W. Hulbert, the son of his daughter Mrs. Carolyn Gulick Hulbert.—Mrs. F. F. Jewett and Mrs. Cyrus A. Clark have also written, each giving a record of her own family.

Rev. Orramel H. Gulick and his young wife, now in her 90th year, are well among the leaders in church attendance and church work, and interested generally in educational and church affairs.

Dr. John T. Gulick, for years a missionary in China and Japan, is now resting in the home of his childhood, Hawaii nei. At the Pan-Pacific Educational Congress, held in Honolulu in August, he enjoyed meeting Dr. David Starr Jordan and other fellow scientists.

Rev. Theodore W. Gulick sent in October a return card from "Meadow's Sanatorium, Seattle, Wash." His Christian work, he says, is praying for the Jews in Duluth, Milwaukee and Seattle, and he quotes Zech. 8:13 and Isaiah 27:6. In March he wrote, sending the genealogical record of his branch of the Gulick family, and he also tells of the death of his oldest son, Dr. Walter Vose Gulick, who passed away on the 10th of February, leaving a wife and three sons, the oldest, Howard, over fifteen and the youngest seven. The trouble was heart disease of long standing, and the past year proved a heavy strain on his strength owing to much sickness in the family. We quote from a long letter, "What helpless creatures we are in the hands of our Creator! Blessed indeed are those who have accepted the perfect atonement as their title to a mansion in Heaven. It is the one and only title of any value. And, praise God, it is a perfect title, as perfect as our Creator can give. The infinite importance of a perfect title to a Heavenly Home has been pressed upon me recently in a number of ways, and I realize my time will soon cease in which I will have the privilege of sounding out my glorious Savior's praises on the earth."—Hervey Gulick on a post card to treasurer Dickey gives his address as Hervey Gulick, 6164 Glen Holly, Hollywood, Calif.

Miss Julia Gulick seems to forget that she has given up mission work, and from force of habit, or Christian love, keeps finding her way here and there wherever good may be done.

Hall (E. O.).—Miss Gladys Palmer and Mrs. Helen Palmer Rideout, the twin daughters of Lucy White Palmer, visited their uncle, E. O. White, of Honolulu, in July and August. They came from Braintree, Mass., and returned to Springfield, Mass., where they are teaching. Their brother, Herbert Hall Palmer, is also at Springfield, at La Salle Extension University. Their father's address is still 120 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

Mr. Seymour Hall sends us a new address, 378 Van Buren Ave. Oakland, Calif.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hall left Honolulu last summer and are now living in Oakland, Calif. We greatly miss their voices in all the musical entertainments of the city as well as in the church choir.—Mrs. Florence Hall McIntyre is kept very busy with her three fair daughters and her little son Neil.—Miss Charlotte is in the office of the Bishop Trust Co. Edwin O. Hall with his wife and young son, Thomas Seymour, lives in Bangor, Me.

Mr. Alonzo Gartley died, after a brief illness, on Apr. 2nd, 1921. Mrs. Gartley and Miss Ruth spent some months on the coast. Alonzo Gartley, Jr. left in September to re-enter the Thacher School at Ojai, Calif. He is a member of the base-ball team. Lieut. and Mrs. Talmadge Wilson (U.S.N.) (Eleanor Gartley), have an attractive home in Nuuanu Valley. Dick Gartley is at Yale and spent his Christmas vacation in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Austin Jones, with their two lovely girls and little Peter Cushman, spent some months on the Coast, returning in October. Later Mrs. Jones was called to mourn the loss of her father, T. W. Hobron.—Mr. and Mrs. Worrall (Margaret Jones) returned in April, 1921, after a short trip to the Coast.—Mr. Russell Richards (husband of Catherine Jones), attended the American Legion Convention at Kansas City.—Miss Helen Jones and her mother, Mrs. E. A. Jones, are in their pleasant home in Pearl City. Helen's engagement to Howard Farrar of St. Louis, Mo., has just been announced.

The appointment of A. Lewis, Jr. (husband of Alice Jones) as Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, met with the approval of the best financiers of the city. Mr. Lewis was also made second vice-president of the Hawaiian Historical Society.

The descendants of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hall number 45; eight in the 3d generation, twenty-four in the 4th and thirteen in the 5th generation.

Hitchcock (H. R.).—The death of Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock in November, after a lingering illness, took from our membership a woman beautiful in character and accomplishments, and one who was loved by all who knew her.—H. Harvey Hitchcock returned from the East in November and on Feb. 25th was married to Miss Peggy Campbell, with a pretty home wedding at the home of the bride's brother. They are now living at the Hitchcock home on Judd St. Miss Helen is a sophomore at Punahou, and her brother Dickson is also in Honolulu.—D. Howard Hitchcock has been painting some more fine scenes of late. Harvey and his wife have recently taken part in some of the Lanai plays.

Mrs. Cora Hitchcock Townsend writes from the Philippines giving her address as 207 Park Avenue, Pasay, and says, "Mr. Townsend and I pore over the report of the H.M.C. Society every time we receive one. It keeps us in touch with all the dear Cousins in our beloved Hawaii. Our son David is now in Sheldon, Iowa. He is Constructing Engineer in concrete road building across the state of Iowa. On June 19th of this year a son, Henry Schuler, was born to David and Fanny Townsend. He was named for his grandfather. But on June 20th the baby died.—Almeda Townsend Goss, her husband and children are enjoying old England. S. Dole Townsend is doing very well—enjoys farming and country life in Vineland, N. J. My husband and I are in excellent health, enjoying our work and our home in this far away country. At times we long for Hawaii, especially for the dear old friends.”

Of the children of Mary Castle Hitchcock, Rexford, living at the old home on Molokai, has two sons of his first wife living, one of whom is married and has two boys of his own. The present wife has six children; Edward James, Hannah Elizabeth, George Kaileen, Charles Henry, Mary Emily, and Mabel Eunice. Mr. and Mrs. Snow, of Olaa, have no children and Harriet is unmarried, living with and caring for her mother and her brother Edward's daughter, Hildreth. —Mabel Hitchcock Schoen and her husband have seven children living.

In answer to the circular letter Mrs. Snow has sent us a carefully prepared paper which not only helps out the Roll-call of Living Descendants but will be of great value to the Recorder in compiling the records which keep accumulating.—Mrs. Townsend writes again, and from her letter we gather these items: “Henry Schuler Townsend, Ph.D., is Professor and Head of the Department of Philosophy and Psychology and Acting Head of the Training Department of the College of Education, University of the Philippines, Manila, P. I.—Mrs. Townsend is teacher of English in Manila South High School.—David William Townsend is Superintending Construction Engineer under the State Highway Commission of Iowa, with headquarters at Sioux City, Iowa.—Almeda Hitchcock Goss and family have moved to Genoa, Switzerland. Mr. Goss has been made Supervisor of Physical Education for the Y. M. C. A. of Europe under the American International committee, with head quarters at Genoa.—I wish I might quote all of Almeda's letter, telling of the survey in Southern Europe and the handicaps. She says, ‘It does not seem possible that there are so many people so eager for an education. They beg for books,—any books in English or French,—text books or magazines—new or old,—and are so grateful.’ Then she told of spending the evening with a charming Russian woman who had lost her all but said, ‘It is spiritual food that Russia needs most—the soul of Russia that is most in need of help.’” There are 42 living descendants of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hitchcock, eight of the 3rd generation, twenty-six of the 4th and eight of the 5th generation.

Hyde (C. M.).—During the Woman's Board Jubilee in June, 1921, our thoughts were frequently and lovingly turned to Mrs. C. M. Hyde, for twelve years its able and efficient leader.—Mrs. Irene Ii Holloway is living up Nuuanu Valley among her rare plants and flowers.—In April, 1921, Mr. and Mrs. George Ii Brown and family returned from Boston where they had been visiting Mrs. Brown's relatives. Her mother, Mrs. Z. L. White, returned to Hawaii with them.—Francis Hyde Ii Brown, youngest son of Mrs. Irene Ii Holloway, who last year married Miss Wichman, has built a commodious bungalow on the summit of Pacific Heights, where the scenery must be magnificent.

There are six living descendants of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyde;—one of the 2nd generation, 4 of the 3rd and 1 of the 4th generation.

Ives (M.)—Mr. Harland Page Ives writes, "It gives me pleasure to comply with the request you make in your letter of Feb. 1st, and I am enclosing a copy of the names of the living descendants of the Rev. Mark and Mary Brainard Ives. Regretting that some of my family cannot be in attendance at the roll-call, and wishing for you continued success in your valuable and interesting labor of love," etc. Mr. Ives encloses a check from Harlan Page Ives, Mrs. Harlan Pages Ives, Mary Brainard and Harriet Evelyn Ives, to be applied toward a life membership in the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for Elizabeth Emily Bennett, 3 Bennett Place, Danbury, Conn. Elizabeth Emily Bennett is a daughter of Helen Vaill Ives Bennett, who is a daughter of Harlan Page Ives, who is a son of the Rev. Mark Ives; and is therefore a direct descendant of the Rev. Mark Ives." The name of Miss Elizabeth Emily Bennett was sent to the Treasurer for membership last year, but too late, we think, to have her name enrolled as a member.

Mr. Ives writes that Miss Mary Parnelly Ives, his sister, "is the sole living daughter of the Rev. Mark and Mary Brainard Ives."—We have had a note from Miss Ives, giving her address as "Paradise," Calif.

From the clear statistics of Mr. Ives we find 21 living descendants of Mark and Mary Brainard Ives—two of the 2nd generation, nine of the 3d and ten of the 4th generation.

Johnson (E.)—A pretty little poem in the June Friend, written by Miss Evelyn McDougal on the eve of the burial of Miss Frances Johnson, ending with

"The wearied body, worn and frayed,
In peaceful plot at rest is laid,
But the young, young spirit wings its flight
Through wonder regions of wondrous light!"

is recalled when looking at the sweet face of Miss Johnson in some old photographs and Daguerreotypes given us by her niece, Miss B. Frances Bindt. In the November Friend are some fine pictures of Miss Johnson's father and mother, the Rev. Edward and Mrs. Lois Hoyt Johnson, together with a most interesting account from the versatile pen of our Vice-President, Miss Ethel Damon, of the early Johnson homestead at Waioli, Kauai, and the Johnson school of ninety boys and seventy girls.

The collection of pictures and treasures given by Miss Frances Bertha Bindt includes photographs of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Fyfe—some of the few missing ones of the second generation—for the picture-pillar.

Miss Bindt tells of the death of her cousin, Mary Fyfe MacDonald, on Apr. 29, 1920, at Twin Lakes, less than four months after the death of her mother at the same place. She leaves two children, June and Jack MacDonald, both married; and Mrs. June has a little boy, Donald, nearly six years old.—Donald Fyfe, an electrician in the Navy, left Honolulu some time ago and with his family is located at Vallejo, Calif. The names of his children are Malcolm and Janet Fyfe.

Henry Bindt, a student of the University of Hawaii, is quite independent notwithstanding his loss of sight, going to and from the University and his home alone, coming to town, buying his ticket to Pearl City and transferring to the Peninsula car, without assistance. His youngest brother, Frank, adopted by his aunt, Miss F. Bertha Bindt, is a very bright, happy child, and expects to attend public school next year.

Judd (G. P.).—Mrs. Laura Wight, eldest of the Wilder branch of the large Judd family, returned from her visit to Europe early in December, having spent some months in travel and in visiting her daughter Leslie, Mrs. Hurum, in Christiania, Norway. Mrs. Ella Wight Stephens came from her home in Hilo to greet her mother on her return.—Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder were of Mrs. Swanzy's committee who made such a success of the reception given by the Cousins to the Pan-Pacific Educational Council.—Mrs. S. G. Wilder, who toured Europe during the summer, remained for a time in London.—Mr. James Wilder, Chief Sea Scout of America, and Mrs. Wilder returned to Honolulu in December after a long absence in New York City. They were entertained at Mr. Gerrit Wilder's home.—Mrs. Juliet Swanzy held a Judd reunion at Christmas time, at which there were present scores of Judd descendants,—a happy family gathering, celebrated by feasting and dancing,—and Miss Agnes acted as family historian.

In May, Mrs. Emily Cutts Judd, after a long and active life and a very short illness, passed to her reward, leaving Miss Pauahi and some of the nieces in the home. Soon after her departure two great-granddaughters arrived,—Sonia Farley, daughter of Charles Judd Farley, and Elizabeth Jane Farley, daughter of Arthur Francis and Gertrude Farley.—Mrs. Swanzy spent the month of July in Hilo with her daughter, Mrs. Bennett. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan (Rosamond Swanzy,) welcomed in September a second child, a daughter. Mrs. Swanzy was in October chairman of the committee for entertainment of the International Press Congress, and carried out a well-planned "tea" on the Old Mission House grounds, where with a replica of the first printing press, there was represented the taking off of the first sheets of printing done in the Islands,—on Jan. 7, 1822.

Of the Dickson branch—the Pratts, Hitchcocks and Shermans—Dr. and Mrs. Pratt had all their children at home in August. J. S. B. Pratt II, with his wife and J. S. B. Pratt III, are on Kauai; Joshua and family are at Waipahu; Hester is teaching in Honolulu and Catherine has graduated at Smith College and is now assistant Botanist at the University of Hawaii. Dudley Pratt, now in the senior class at Yale, is the only one of the large family away from the Islands. He has been awarded the Palmer scholarship at Yale. He is captain of the champion Yale swimming team. He is also said to be engaged to a young lady of Kauai, a Punahou girl now at the University of Hawaii.—Mrs. Hessie (Dickson) Hitchcock, a lovely, patient invalid for months, was set free from pain on Nov. 24, leaving many friends behind to grieve for her loss. Her son, H. Harvey Hitchcock, returned from the mainland in November, and on Feb. 25 he took for a bride Miss Peggy Campbell, and after a pretty, quiet home wedding and a short honeymoon she was taken to his mother's home, the Hitchcock place on Judd street. Both are interested in theatricals and have been helping the Lanai players. Dickson and Helen are at Punahou. Mr. Hitchcock has been painting some new landscape pictures.—Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman went to the mainland in June and returned in December. Dickson Nott is living up Nuuanu Valley. His sister, Laura Nott Dowsett, has three children, Joan Montgomery Dowsett, Herbert Melville Dowsett and Sherman Nott Dowsett. Mr. and Mrs. Dowsett live up Nuuanu Valley in the Dowsett Tract.

Mrs. A. H. B. Judd celebrated the 50th anniversary of her marriage recently with a family gathering. It was just after the wedding that she came with her husband to Honolulu, where there has gradually gathered about her the present large circle of children and children's children.—Miss Agnes Judd, as Commissioner of Girl Scouts for Oahu, has given the best of her powers to the work. To her belongs the care of securing an efficient executive officer, a helpful council and good captains. It requires able leadership to hold the captains of eleven troops faithful to such wearing work, and it is no easy task to keep up enthusiasm among so many girls of such varied ability and diversified taste. The recent outing at the Fresh Air Camp at Waialua was found to be helpful. Miss Judd is faithful as foreign secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions and to her S. S. class. To the latter she gave an outing in her automobile to Tantalus.—Bernice Judd, eldest daughter of A. F. Judd and Madeline Hartwell Judd, is enjoying school at Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass., and expects to return in June. Her sister Dorothy, belong to the Girl Scouts.—Mrs. James Judd received a medal of appreciation for work done in France. Dr. Judd and family spent some weeks at Kula, Maui, last summer.—Rev. Henry P. Judd, Secretary of the Hawaiian Board, personated the early missionaries in the realistic play of the first schools of Honolulu while Rev. Akaiko Akana personated the king.—A. F. Judd has moved to Round Top.—Senator and Mrs. Lawrence M. Judd spent three months on the mainland, returning in September. They, with Dr. and Mrs. Judd and Sophie Judd Cooke and family form quite a Judd colony on Makiki Heights.

In the Carter branch of the Judd family there have been some changes and much traveling, but the lode-stone, Hawaii, brings them all back eventually to the Islands.—Mrs. Crehore has put up a fine residence on Judd Street. Her daughter, Miss Sybil Crehore, was married, June 28, 1921, to Charles Walter Scribner, at St. Andrews Cathedral, and a lovely reception was given the bride and groom by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Carter. They are making their home on Kauai.—Mr. G. R. Carter has fittingly been elected president of the Historical Society. He is still devoted to the welfare of his Cousins' Society Library and to the Free Dental Clinic for Public School Children across the way. Mrs. Carter and son, Robert, left in November for a mainland visit, and Robert spent his Christmas vacation in New York City.—Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Dyer returned in December from a pleasure trip to the mainland.—Mrs. Dyer's sister Elizabeth, Mrs. W. E. Bogardus, and husband are making their home in New York City.—Mr. C. A. Hartwell and children have returned to Honolulu.—Mr. and Mrs. Galt and Carter Galt left for the Coast in February.

Kinney (H.).—In March, Mrs. Selma Kinney wrote the treasurer that both she and Miss Maude had been ill with influenza,—the latter very ill and threatened with pneumonia—but both had recovered.—Mr. Henry Walsworth Kinney is on the editorial staff of The Trans-Pacific, 18 Yamashita-cho, Kyobashi-ku, Tokyo, Japan. He edited the Herald of Asia during the absence of its editor, Dr. Zumoto, at Washington, D. C. He lives in a pretty villa at Omori, with his two sons, who both attend the American school in Tokyo. Bishop, the eldest, a junior in the High School department, is captain of the base-ball and foot-ball teams, business editor of the school paper, and also patrol-leader of the American Boy Scouts in Japan. Walsworth, the youngest, speaks Japanese as fluently as any native boy. Miriam is boarding at Kaiulani Home and attending Punahou. A beautiful Daguerreotype of Rev. Henry and Mrs. Kinney was found in an empty house in Kaimuki and given to Miss Flood, of Kaiulani Home, who had it copied for Miriam.

Word comes of the bereavement of our Cousin Mrs. Anna Kinney Hobron, whose husband, Thomas W. Hobron, passed away in the 55th year of his life.

We have traced out 28 living descendants of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Kinney,—eight of the 3d generation, nineteen of the 4th and one of the 5th.

Loomis (E.).—Miss May Loomis wrote from St. Cloud, Fla., in February, 1922. The cold wave that had swept over California and New York had touched them but lightly and the fruit was not injured. Spring time had come and she was planning to make garden. She tells of her Christmas friends and Christmas greetings, and also of her sufferings and limitations, and she speaks of the death of a nephew, an only child who went from Michigan to Kansas City to enter a business school there, where he was taken ill with pneumonia and died.

We know of only one living descendant of Elisha Loomis but think there are more.

Lyman (D. B.).—Miss Margaret Greer, last year secretary of the Punahou Elementary School, is now secretary to the Head of Journalism in North-Western University.

Miss Ellen Lyman, ever ready to help the Cousins, has made out a very clear and accurate list of 80 living descendants of Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Lyman, with one of the 2nd generation, twenty-six of the 3d, fifty-one of the 4th and two of the 5th generation. She is also working on some records to help the recorder. Miss Lyman has bought a new home on Kaiulani Place, Hilo.—Mr. Fred S. Lyman has bought the Haley house on Alewa Heights, a sightly place with a fine outlook that can never be cut off by trees.—Francis A. Lyman, Jr. and wife, of Aiea, Oahu, have a daughter, Elizabeth Jane Lyman. Mr. Lyman's mother returned from Madison, Wis., where her son Howard is in school, to greet the little granddaughter, but here she became very ill, and has since gone to join her husband, Dr. F. A. Lyman, in the better land.—Miss Kathryn I. Lyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi C. Lyman, of Hilo Boys' Boarding School, is a senior at Smith's College. Her brother, Orlando H. Lyman, is at Punahou.—Mr. and Mrs. McCluskey (Esther Lyman) are in Honolulu with their two boys, Robert and Donald, Mr. McCluskey being an instructor in the Territorial Normal School.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lyman have sold their house on Liliha St. and have built them a very pretty home away up in cool Nuuanu Valley.

The David B. Lymans of Chicago have not reported this year.

Of Rufus A. Lyman's large family of ten living children, Rufus A. Jr. of Hilo has three children; Henry, one; Richard, four; Eugene, nine; David, six; and Sarah Reid, three, making in all 26 grandchildren.—Norman K. Lyman, who was with Kuhio at Washington, was later a candidate for the Republican nomination for the delegateship.—Mr. James G. Reid is harbor master at Hilo, and with his wife (Sarah Lyman) and their three lively boys resides in that city.

Mrs. Charlotte Dana Lyman was building a home at Pacific Grove, Calif., expecting to move into it after Christmas. She is busy in a Monterey studio with friends, working with them in design and embroidery.

Lyons (L.).—Mrs. Emma Lyons Doyle, of our Publishing Committee, has a helpful way of slipping in where she is needed and doing the right thing, bringing cheer to the sick room, or lifting a corner of some burden too heavy to bear. It is a gift greatly to be admired. During the last year, as Treasurer of the Woman's Board of Missions, she busied herself in preparing a summary of the expenditures of the Board for its half century, and this, with the help of Miss Dorothy Rowell, she presented in such a concise form as to make it appeal directly to the eye and memory of the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Richardson, of Hilo, have made one or two trips to Honolulu this year, combining pleasure with business. Mr. Richardson is Superintendent of the Lumber Department of the Hilo house of American Factors.

Dr. A. B. Lyons writes a family letter about his birthday celebration, when, after two days of steady down-pour, with trees and shrubs and telephone wires heavily crusted with ice and fringed with icicles, there came April 1st, with its bright, clear sunshine on a world resplendent with diamonds. At ten o'clock the ice had melted enough to risk an automobile ride to the Laboratory, where a surprise awaited him in the form of his desk loaded with pots of plants and cut flowers, with a card bearing the inscription, "An expression of the love and esteem of your associates in the Laboratory." Other friends sent gifts. After the storm the spring flowers came up "as by miracle."—Mrs. Lyons' birthday came on Feb. 4th and her gifts kept coming all the week,—flowers in bloom, books, candy and cards, with a six-story birthday cake, and apples and loving friends. So lovingly Dr. and Mrs. Lyons speak of Winifred Andrews, who seems to live near. Lucia is president of the Home and Foreign Missionary work in the District Congregational Association, comprising 22 or 23 churches in Detroit and environs. She was busy, just then, copying a missionary letter for each of these churches. Mrs. Lyons is very busy and tired as they have no maid just now. Mrs. Margaret Brewer Fowler, our Cousin, visited her last fall. One of Mrs. Fowler's sisters recently lost her life and another sister was injured in an automobile accident.

Dr. Lyons wrote a long autobiographical letter a few months ago which was published in the January Friend and is to be placed eventually in the Cousins' vault.

There are only 5 remaining descendants of Rev. and Mrs. Lorenzo Lyons, the poet and hymn-maker,—one of the 2nd generation and four of the 3d.

Paris (J. D.).—Miss Ella Paris, of Kona, Hawaii, in answer to the circular letter gives the number of living descendants of J. D. Paris as 18,—two of the 2nd generation, seven of the 3d and nine of the 4th.—William J. Paris, third son of the late John D. Paris, was married, Sep. 19, at Kohala, Hawaii, to Miss Margaret Hind, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Robert Hind, of the Puuwaawaa ranch at Kona, Hawaii. The young people will occupy the old Paris home in South Kona.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison Green are now living at 380, 25th Ave., San Francisco, California. His mother is still engaged in mission work on Clement Street, San Francisco.

Parker (B. W.).—The Parker family is the only family of mission children unbroken by death. A rugged, long lived family they are. Mother Parker rounded out, almost, her one hundred and second year, and her children, octogenarians all, are still with us.—Miss Mary was very ill in the early summer, but with her strong constitution and with such excellent care she rallied. Later she spent ten days at Kaneohe, where the trade winds, old memories of childhood days and the dash of the sea did her much good.—Rev. H. H. Parker keeps busy with the last details of the Hawaiian Dictionary. He is often called upon to perform marriage ceremonies, and he is especially called to conduct funeral services for those whom he had christened and married, and whose friends will be satisfied with no other pastor to perform the last service.—Miss Carrie Parker is also in reasonable health, and Mrs. Green, with her family, lives very near. In fact her daughter, Mrs. May Wilcox, spends most of her time in the Parker household,—a daughter in loving care.

There are four of the 2nd generation of the Parkers and five of the 3d, 9 descendants in all, of Rev. and Mrs. B. W. Parker, who were missionaries, first among the wild Marquesan Islanders, and for the remainder of their long lives devoted laborers on Hawaii nei.

Rice (W. H.).—Mrs. Mary Waterhouse Rice has kindly answered the circular letter of Feb. 1st by sending a genealogical record of not only her own branch of the Rice family but that of the Isenberg and De La Vergne families as well. One bit of news she gives that we had failed to get hold of for eleven years, was the birth of George Harrison De La Vergne, Jr., in 1910. We would like to have the month and day of the month and the place of his birth for the recorder, and we shall hope to greet him soon as one of our new members.

We find by the records that there are 66 living descendants of Rev. William H. and Sophia Hyde Rice, who were so closely identified with pioneer days at Hana, at Punahou and at Lihue, Kauai. There are two still living of the 2nd generation, sixteen of the 3d and forty-eight of the 4th generation.

Paul Rice, son of sheriff William Henry Rice, has made quite a record as an athlete on the mainland. He has been attending the Thacher School at Ojai, Ventura County, Calif.—Miss Juliette Rice, daughter of Charles A. Rice, was married, Oct. 21, 1921, at Kalapaki, her father's home near Lihue, Kauai, to Ensign Holbrook M. Goodale, U. S. N., only son of W. W. and Mrs. Goodale of Waialua. Both were Cousins and are bound to us now by a double tie. Canon Ault was the officiating clergyman, her cousin, Harrison Rice, was best man, her sister Edith was bridesmaid, and four little cousins, Helen Rice, Edith King, Dora Jane Isenberg and Eunice Scott were flower girls and attendants. The outdoor ceremony, with its tropical setting of cocoanut palms, lily-pond, trailing jasmines and the dash of the near-by waves of the sea will long be remembered by those present.—Miss Edith had just returned from abroad, having been touring Europe for six months.—Arthur H. Rice, secretary and treasurer of the James F. Morgan Co., with wife and two children occupies what was long ago called Koa Grove, the home of Judge and Mrs. Lorrin Andrews and their family.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice and their daughter, Charlotte, went to the Coast in August and spent some months.—Attorney Philip Rice visited Honolulu in September in connection with some law cases.

Richards (W.).—William S. Clark, son of Dr. Hubert Lyman Clark, M. C. Z., Cambridge, 38, Mass., passed through Honolulu on Aug. 31st on his way to Sapporo, Japan, to take up the work established by his grandfather in that place many years ago. He graduated from Amherst June 20 at the head of his class and went to Japan under appointment of the A. B. C. F. M. Other missionaries were going through on the same steamer, among them a son of Sidney L. Gulick; and though they passed through on the Sabbath day we opened up the Old Mission House; and they were much interested in the beginnings of Missions on the Sandwich Islands. In the February Missionary Herald there is a letter from Mr. William Clark, telling of his welcome reception and the great need for active leaders. His father has sent genealogical records.

We are indebted to Miss Gertrude D. Brewer, daughter of Prof. Williams Fisk Brewer, of Bozeman, Montana, for a record of the Brewer branch of the family. We are also very grateful for a corrected list of addresses for the family, for we are entirely dependent upon the members for notification of any changes in addresses.

Comparing the statistics sent in by Dr. Hubert Clark and Miss Brewer with our records in The Big Book, we find there are 58 living descendants of Rev. and Mrs. William Richards,—nineteen in the 3d generation, twenty-six in the 4th and thirteen in the 5th. Thirty of these belong to the Clark branch, eleven to the Willistons and seventeen to the Brewer family.

Rogers (E. H.).—Miss Mary Eva and Miss Mabel Sunter spent the summer vacation in Honolulu, where they were greatly interested in the Cousins' records and in the museum. Miss Mary is teaching in the school at Laupahoehoe, Hawaii, and Miss Mabel teaches the Waiakea-kai school, Hilo. The climate and the gorgeous scenery of Hawaii seem to agree with them, for both looked remarkably well and seemed to enjoy for a change their summer in the metropolis.

The descendants of E. W. Rogers, so far as we have traced them, number 18,—fourteen of the 3d generation and four of the 4th; but one branch of the family remains to be heard from.

Rowell (G. B.).—There has been but little change in the Rowell family this year. Miss Elsie is still keeping the home fires burning; Miss Olive is teaching; Miss Dorothy busy in Honolulu and Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn (Ruth Leslie) are on their California farm. Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Zbitovsky) Rowell, (Alice), and their little daughter Anne have removed from Chicago University to the University of California at Berkeley where the Professor is teaching Psychology and Philosophy.

The descendants of George B. and Malvina C. Rowell number 61 if our records are correct,—two of the 2nd generation, twenty-four of the 3d and thirty-five of the 4th generation.

Ruggles (S.).—Mrs. Frances S. Loomis, daughter of Sarah T. (Ruggles) Peck, has sent a carefully prepared genealogical record of the descendants of her grandparents, Samuel and Nancy Ruggles, the pioneer missionaries. Another record of his own branch of the family was sent by her brother, C. G. Peck, and from these and from the reports already in The Big Book we find that there are 25 living descendants of Samuel and Nancy Ruggles; four of the 3d generation, eight of the 4th and thirteen of the 5th generation. Two of the 3d generation, Samuel and Charles Stevens, are sons of Hilda Ruggles, and all trace of them has been lost since their mother's death, about 1869. Mrs. Loomis has very delightful memories of them when they came to their grandfather's home after their father's death in 1850.

Mrs. Loomis takes much pleasure in her grandchildren,—the two lovely girls in the University and the small boys. She says our Governor Farrington's brother and his wife, Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Farrington, are neighbors of theirs in Madison, Wis., and fine people.

Mr. Peck has been a semi-invalid for some months, following a stroke of paralysis affecting his left leg; otherwise he is most thoroughly well in body and mind—can walk around the house, to his garage and to his daughter's. He is a great reader and has a wonderful collection of stamps, which affords him occupation. Mr. Peck regrets exceedingly a technical error in the Gulick history of the Mission, which substitutes in one place "Mary" for "Nancy" as his grandmother's name.

Shipman (W. C.).—Our new Recorder last year, Miss H. Forbes, had some correspondence with Miss Caroline Shipman which throws much light on the family record, and will in time be placed in The Big Book. In the meantime we find from this that there are 17 living descendants of William Cornelius and Jane Stobie Shipman,—two of the 2nd generation, ten of the 3d and five of the 5th.

Mr. Oliver T. Shipman is practicing law in Hilo. Of his three children, John N. is at Davis, Calif.; Frank L., married to Miss Ruth Allen, lives in Iowa City and has one son; and Jane Shipman, married to N. Kenneth Simmons in 1919, is living at Independence, Mo.

Of Mr. William Herbert Shipman's family, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. English (Mary Shipman) have two little girls, Margaret Clarisse and Eldora Shipman English; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Francis Fisher (Clara Wilhelmina) have one little girl, Mary Virginia Fisher, born in 1915; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Blackshear (Florence Lukini) have a little girl born Feb. 7, 1922, as yet without a name that fits.

We sincerely thank Miss Shipman for these items, and we ask as we ask of all, that any errors, or any news be reported promptly, as that is our only way of keeping our records true and up to date

Smith (L.).—Mr. Walter F. Dillingham spent several months at Washington, D. C., in business for the Territory,—trying to put through Congress the "Hawaiian Emergency Labor Bill." Mrs. Dillingham joined him in August and they returned in January.—Mr. Harold Dillingham also returned from a mainland visit as did Mrs. Frear who went over in September. The W. F. Frear family had previously spent about three months touring California in their automobile, and again Mrs. Frear spent the holidays with her daughter Virginia, who is at Mills College.

Mr. and Mrs. Erdman were very successful in dramatizing the Book of Ruth in June. Harold Erdman is a very enthusiastic swimmer. He is good also in dramatization, as is his sister. Miss Louise belongs to the "Hui Eleu" at Punahou. The Erdman family spent a restful vacation on the other side of the island. Their guest, Mrs. Clara Benfield Smith, left them in July and is now in San Francisco.

Mrs. Walter Dillingham has entertained largely in the beautiful residence on Diamond Head Road. She and Mrs. Harold Dillingham did much to encourage the work of Mrs. Mabel Farrington Kahn, who was here in the interest of The Near East Relief.

There are 19 descendants of the Lowell Smith family, four of the 3d generation and fifteen of the 4th.

Smith (J. W.).—Many changes have occurred in Dr. J. W. Smith's family during the past year. A marriage, that of Mary Abbe Hartwell, daughter of S. T. and Mabel R. Hartwell, to Mr. Reed Pierce

Anthony, was solemnized at Chestnut Hill, Mass., on Nov. 12, 1921. On the same day, in Honolulu, her cousin, Edith Millicent Carter, daughter of A. W. Carter and Edith Hartwell Carter, became the bride of Henry Ernest Podmore, of Honolulu.—Mr. Charles A. Hartwell, for thirteen years a resident of the old Empire State, has returned to Honolulu with his children, Martha and Alfred, and opened up the old homestead. The children are at Punahou.—Miss Bernice came back about Christmas time, and at present is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Carter.—Mrs. F. F. Hedemann returned to Hawaii in June.

Mr. W. O. Smith spent a few weeks in Aug. and Sept. recruiting on the Coast.—The wife of Clarence H. Smith passed away Jan. 13th, 1921, in Nice, France, and he returned to his old home in April after an absence of many years.—Mrs. Ethel F. (Smith) Baldwin is making her home in Washington, D. C., as her husband, H. A. Baldwin, is now the Hawaiian Delegate, popularly elected to fill out the unexpired term of Prince Kuhio.—Mrs. Kathrine (Smith) Baldwin, wife of S. A. Baldwin, has been touring New Zealand.

Mr. A. H. Smith has five grandchildren doubly eligible to become Cousins, and only waiting for some one to think of making them members.—Miss Alice Smith is still looking after the physical development of our young people.

Mr. William Waterhouse, ex-mayor of Pasadena, came in August to visit his son, Dr. A. H. Waterhouse of Koloa.—Rev. Paul Waterhouse and son have returned to their mission work in Japan.

The number of living descendants of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith is 57; three of the 2nd generation, twenty-one of the 3d and thirty-three of the fourth generation.

Thurston (A.).—Miss Mary Winne, Principal of Elementary Department of Punahou School, spent her vacation near Kilauea volcano, with the refreshing breezes from Mauna Loa.—Miss Jane Winne went to the Coast, and at Lake Tahoe had the delightful rest and relaxation she so needed.—Mr. and Mrs. James P. Winne reside at 3217 Diamond Head Road and Mrs. Winne seems already quite at home in her new environment.

Mr. C. H. Kluegel is chief engineer of Oahu Railway and resides in the old home with his daughter Miss Mary Kluegel, who is teaching in the Normal School.—Mr. Harry A. Kluegel was appointed Chief of the Division of Water Rights with the State Department of Public Works of California.—Mrs. Nellie McIntyre Kluegel, wife of George Kluegel, after a short illness passed away in March, 1922, leaving many friends to sympathize with the bereaved husband and daughter. Miss Pauline is a student in the University of Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Taylor are especially happy in having as neighbors their son and his lovely young wife, who has already made many friends here. In November she, Mrs. Thurston Taylor, left for her first visit to her mother in Oakland.

Mr. Lorrin A. Thurston was very influential in securing, for August, the meeting of the Educational Council in Honolulu; and still more did he work to have the meeting of the International Press Conference held here in November, making a trip to San Francisco to secure their transportation, and planning for their entertainment while here. Later he went to Maui with the Advertiser pilot car to map out automobile roads for the Valley Island. Mr. Thurston has been elected Vice-President of the Historical Society. Mrs. Thurston's father, F. A. Potter, passed away November 24th at the advanced age of about 88.—For the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thurston spent a few weeks on Alewa Heights with Mr. and Mrs. Trent, Mrs. Thurston's sister.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thurston had with them for a short time only, a little heavenly visitor who passed on, leaving their arms empty.—Mr. and Mrs. Twigg Smith (Margaret Thurston), have a little son, Thurston Twigg Smith, born August 17, who spent the Christmas holidays with them on Tantalus. Mr. Twigg Smith now belongs to the musical department of the faculty of Punahou, as an instructor on the flute.—Lorrin Potter Thurston again spent his summer vacation, 1921, in Hawaii. He captained the Yale swimming team and had a glorious time, leaving in August for the University of Missouri, there to take a year's course in newspaper work and advertising. Here he settled down to hard work and finished the course, returning to take his place on the Advertiser staff.

Mr. Asa Thurston Heydon, son of Mary Thurston Heydon Benfield, passed through Honolulu August 22, seeing the city for the first time in forty years. He was on his way to Japan and Korea and remained only while the steamer was in port. He has been living a hermit's life in Alaska, Nevada and California, searching for gold and oil, and now goes to the far East on geological researches. Mr. Heydon is a fluent writer with original ideas and has written a good deal for publication.—Mr. Heydon's charming sister, Mrs. Clara Benfield Smith, writes at present from 642 Jones street, San Francisco, where she occupies herself with her music, with studying the simple Christ teaching as found in the Gospels and in Isaiah, and sometimes calling on "shut-ins."

A letter from Lucy Thurston McNeely, daughter of Rev. Thomas G. Thurston, gives some interesting statistics, among them this item: "You will be interested to know that I have twins one year old, Lucy Thurston and Asa Thurston. Grandmother Thurston had a twin sister and my twins are the only ones in the family that I know of." Mrs. McNeely has two other boys, Robert Thurston and Clarence Pharr Thurston. Her brother, Dr. Asa Thurston, has three children, Thomas Gardiner, Alice Gasking, and Milton Stevenson Thurston.

From records sent in we find 30 descendants of Rev. Asa and Lucy Thurston,—seven of the 3rd generation, twenty of the 4th and three of the 5th.

Tinker (R.).—Miss Marina Purdon, granddaughter of Rev. Reuben and Mary Tinker, returned from a long stay in England in September. Just where she would eventually settle she did not know, but can always be reached through her cousin, Mrs. Weatherup, (who by the way, has since become our Cousin), at 189 Fruit Ave., Jamestown, N. Y. Miss Purdon had been to Jamestown for a Tinker reunion. Her uncle, Robert Tinker, from Rockford, Ill., was there and looking remarkably well for a man of his age, eighty-five years. Her cousin, Mrs. Elsie Weatherup Starr and daughter Sylvia Starr, of Buffalo, went to England while Miss Purdon was there and spent the summer and autumn. Miss Purdon met her cousins, Mr. Samuel L. Munson and Mr. Robert Lyman, who visited us during the Centennial, and met also Mr. W. Clark Durant, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., who was getting out a biography of Miss Purdon's grandfather. The Secretary, Mrs. R. W. Andrews, and Vice-President, G. R. Carter, have had some correspondence with Mr. Durant which resulted in Mr. Carter's purchasing the book, a short type-written history of Rev. Reuben Tinker's life, for the Cousins' library.

Miss Purdon writes that the remains of her aunt Mary Woods Tinker Harvey were taken from Hollywood, California, and buried at New Rochelle beside those of her husband, Dr. Harvey.

Mr. S. L. Munson sent us, early in the year, two small kodak pictures of Miss Purdon as she appeared when leaving America for England.

Our roll-call of living descendants of Reuben and Mary Tinker number 10.—one of the 2nd generation, five of the 3rd and four of the 4th generation.

Van Duzee (W. S.).—Miss Cyrene O Van Duzee, the retired missionary of thirty years of active life in Persia, has not written us this year, but we have been informed by the editor of The Friend that she does not wish her subscription renewed as she is no longer able to see to read it. We congratulate her that after all her years of service for others, the dear Father has placed her in such a lovely, quiet home, where she can still serve by prayer, patience and trust. "They also serve who only stand and wait."

After writing the above, word has come to us through her cousin that Miss Van Duzee passed on to her reward on October 8, 1921, at the ripe age of eighty-two years.

The roll-call of living descendants of W. S. and Oral Van Duzee are, so far as we know, only 6,—two of the 2nd generation and four of the 3rd.

Wetmore (C. H.).—The old Wetmore home in Hilo has been sold and is now occupied by the Y. M. C. Association. With all its missionary history and precious associations, it is fitting that the very walls and broad verandas should continue in their work of ministry.

In September a wedding card was received, announcing the marriage of Mr. Charles Wetmore Deacon to Miss Lillian Anderson, and later we were told that Mrs. Deacon had taken to her heart the three charming little daughters of the household, Katherine, Elinor and Dorothea, and become a real mother to them.

We are wondering whether Mrs. Catherine (Wetmore) Deacon and Mrs. Lucy (Wetmore) Lewis have forgotten to send their photographs for the picture-pillar. We have such a beautiful picture of Dr. Frances Wetmore, but it looks very lonely with no others of the family to stand with it in the Wetmore frame.

The living descendants of Dr. Charles H. and Lucy S. Wetmore number 10,—two of the 2nd generation, three of the 3rd and five of the 4th generation.

Whitney (S.).—The great events in the Whitney family this year have been the two weddings. Ensign Holbrook Goodale, U.S.N., was graduated from Annapolis in June and stationed at Mare Island, from whence he arrived in Honolulu two days before the wedding. At 4 o'clock, Oct. 21st, at Kalapaki, Kauai, the sea-side home of Charles A. Rice, father of the bride, the beautiful ceremony took place. The water-lilies, the leaning cocoa-nut palms, the flower-laden breeze, and the soft lapping of the sea on the shore, mingling with the wedding march, the solemn service and the happy greetings, gave the tropical setting to an ideal lanai wedding service. The happy couple left for Honolulu later on the steamer Maui amid showers of rice and the echoes of the wedding march played by the Hawaiian band.

At Maunaolu, Paia, Maui, May 7, 1921, Cory Coville Pogue and Miss Ida Ah Fo were married in the outdoor pavilion, which was beautifully decorated with greens and quantities of Easter lilies, while eight little flower girls with garlands of ferns formed a lane of beauty and hope for the passage of the bridal party, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride was very sweet in her pretty white dress and wedding veil, set off by the pink costume of her bridesmaid. Mr. Pogue's brother Fred attended him as best man. They are making their home at Kailua, Maui.—Fred Pogue belongs to the foot-ball team of Punahou.—Henry Baldwin Pogue, Punahou ex 1921, was captain of the Maui foot-ball team, but has returned to Davis Farm, in California.

In June, 1921, Miss Clare Kelley, niece of H. M. Whitney of C. Brewer and Co., sailed for Alaska for a summer cruise.—Miss McCall writes of her very quiet life but says it is inspiring to be alive in this wonderful era of the world.

Genealogical letters have been received from Miss Jane Pogue and her brother, William Pogue. The latter gives as living, eleven of his fourteen children and one grandchild. These, with himself and sister, make 14 Pogues. These 14 Pogues with Miss McCall and the seven in the H. M. Whitney branch make 22 living descendants of the pioneer missionaries, Samuel and Mercy Whitney; five of the 3d generation, sixteen of the 4th and one of the 5th generation.

Wilcox (A.).—Gaylord P. Wilcox, Secretary of The American Factors, Ltd., took a vacation on the Coast in October. His wife and children had gone some months earlier and were visiting Mrs. Wilcox's sister, Mrs. A. Andrew, in Berkeley. Mr. Gaylord Wilcox's home in Honolulu is near that of Mrs. Charles (Marion Waterhouse) Wilcox, away up in cool Nuuanu Valley, near the Country Club. Mrs. A. S. Wilcox and Allen Wilcox also have homes there.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Wilcox are erecting a beautiful parish house at Lihue, on the grounds of the Lihue Union Church. It is being built in memory of their sons, Ralph Lyman Wilcox and Charles Henry Wilcox, and will be a building of quiet beauty and of great service to the community. It will be dedicated in May.

All Kauai has been interested in the re-habilitation and re-dedication of the old church and parsonage at Hanalei. As a new church had been erected to take the place of the old one, this has just been restored as a Community Center. The grounds also have been fenced and leveled and made ready for games. The gift of the renovated house and grounds came from the three daughters of S. W. Wilcox, who bought out the owners, put in the repairs and presented it to the people of Hanalei. But this has been so well written up in the November Friend that we refer you to the article, which gives an account of the dedicatory services, the history of the Mission and the life there of Fathers Alexander, Johnson, Rowell and Wilcox, together with early pictures of the same.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sloggett, with their five children, are greatly missed on Maui, but they are back with their own again and entering with equal zest into community affairs on Kauai.—Miss Elsie Wilcox was appointed Commissioner of Education on Kauai, and has devoted her time and strength to its most important responsibilities and duties. (As we go to press she is on her way to the States, a delegate to the National Educational Council.)—Miss Mabel Wilcox is a health commissioner and has much to do with the new hospital at Kapaa, given a few years ago by Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox. So the whole family, each in his own way, are carrying out the work of their parents.

The roll-call gives the number of living descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Wilcox as 32,—three of the 2nd generation, eight of the 3d and twenty-one of the 4th generation.

ADOPTED COUSINS

Babbitt.—Mrs. Sarah (Carter) Babbitt is still living in Boston where she went to educate her children. Her daughter, Elizabeth, is now a sophomore at Wellesley.

Beckwith.—Cheery Christmas greetings came from Mary Beckwith, living at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where she is caring for her mother, able still to send greetings to her friends but not able to do her share of the writing. She lives much in memory with her girlhood friends but has recently not been quite so well.—Miss Martha, bravely doing her work at Vassar College while cheering her mother of evenings, drops a line occasionally to friends here, bearing her lasting love for Hawaii nei.

Birnie.—Dr. Douglas Putnam Birnie, former pastor of Central Union Church, has returned to Washington, D. C. after six months spent in Europe. He says that Hawaii with its loyal friends is very dear to him, and he follows the story of the Islands and Central Union Church with great interest.

Bowen.—Mrs. W. A. Bowen has had as guests this winter, her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Comings, of Oberlin, Ohio, and left Honolulu with them in April, continuing her journey to New York City, where she will spend the summer with her son Spencer Bowen and his family.

Brown.—Mrs. Ella Spooner Brown writes that the Annual Report is always eagerly received and with The Friend is carefully treasured. She sends congratulations on the steady progress of the Society. She greatly misses Mrs. Atherton, but is looking forward to a glad reunion.

Cox.—Mrs. I. M. Cox of Honolulu spent the summer in traveling through the United States and Europe as chaperon for a company of young ladies.

Crozier.—Douglas Crozier, son of Addie Campbell Howell Crozier, is a sophomore at Cornell. His brother is also at Cornell.

Edwards.—A card (we think, from Mrs. T. C. Edwards, though no name is signed to it) asks us to note the change of address and number to 864 Laurel Ave., Pacific Grove, Calif. Mrs. Edwards did live at 252 Walnut St.

Leete.—A sad little note came to treasurer Dickey from Miss Harriet C. Leete. She was on her way to the hospital and naturally was despondent and says, "I am too old and too near the end of my days to be counted as a living Cousin, though it has been pleasant to have been among the elect." We hope that the cloud was but temporary and that the rainbow of hope is spanning her remaining days here.

Lewis.—Our Cousin, Mrs. McCully Higgins, was married, Oct 24th, to Mr. Franklin Filmore Lewis, of Janesville, Wis., and is now making her home in that place. Mrs. Lewis formerly lived in Honolulu as the wife of Justice McCully and has since visited the place many times. Mr. Lewis has also visited Honolulu three or four times,—the first time with his former wife, a grand niece of Samuel and Nancy Ruggles. Mr. Lewis and Mrs. Higgins met on the steamer when returning from the Centennial exercises at Hawaii and the meeting soon terminated in an engagement and marriage. Rumor says they expect to visit Hawaii soon again.

Lowrey.—F. J. Lowrey, President of Lewers and Cooke and President of the Hawaiian Board, was married in Washington, D. C., June 9th, to Mrs. Maud Gregory Philips. Mrs. Philips visited in Honolulu about two years ago from her home in Halifax, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey spent some months on the mainland, returning the latter part of September.

Lydgate.—Rev. J. M. Lydgate, editor of The Garden Island and authority on Hawaiian legends, is devoting much time to the moral upbuilding of Kauai. His second son, Homer Lydgate, has entered Yale University, and his eldest son, Mortimer, is in the University of Hawaii.

Moore.—Mrs. W. L. Moore and daughter went to the Coast in December and after a stay of about six weeks returned. Soon after, the engagement of her eldest daughter, Alice, to Ensign Addison Erwin Kirk, U.S.N., was announced, and on Feb. 21st a beautiful marriage ceremony took place at St. Andrews Cathedral. They left soon afterward for California.

Potter.—A long letter from Miss S. M. Potter, formerly of Mau-naolu Seminary, in March, 1922, tells of her great interest in the church work and in Mission Work; tells of the many immigrants coming into the country near her home who cannot read, and of the many who want the Bible in their own language. She says, "Workers seem to agree that nothing brings to mind a desire for the laws and ways of our Christian people like the Bible." She says, "I have just passed my 92nd birthday. It was a lovely day, bright and warm for the season. Ninety-two years old! Isn't that dreadful? When I look back to my childhood I cannot believe I am I. Still I have to own up to another birthday—and never a brighter one. From early morning, letters, cards, flowers, books, fruits and all sorts of good things, with many calls, came pouring in until dark night. We served tea and cake. Wish you could have been here.—This has been a warm winter. I long to get out to see the new life peeping up. The Spring-time is the joy of this climate. We have to have the cold and the snow to appreciate the awakening." This was written in March, and on April 6th she, too, had her awakening.

Price.—Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Price wrote on Aug. 21st from China, "The American Board, Pao Ting Fu station, rejoices in the increasing opportunity for mission work. The Famine Relief work has made a wide and favorable impression on all classes, and thousands are desiring instruction in Christian truths. Our city chapel has been crowded night after night, and at the woman's center a great company has received daily instruction during the past year Phil. 4:19."

Searle.—Miss Susan A. Searle, of Kobe, Japan, wrote our Treasurer on Kauai the following note which we did not receive in time to meet her: "Miss (Dr.) De Forest, our President, has just returned from her furlough and that releases me to take mine. I sail on the Siberia Maru, Sep. 10, from Yokohama and hope to have several hours in Honolulu which I shall thoroughly enjoy."

Mrs. Clara Isenberg Sielcken was recently married to Josef Schwartz, a well known tenor singer, and they came to Honolulu in May, on their wedding trip.

Smith.—Mrs. Lucilla Bates Smith writes that she will greatly miss Ellen Weaver, who goes to Honolulu soon, for they kept closely in touch with old days though Mrs. Weaver lived in Berkeley. She says, "My home life is very quiet and I am busy all of each day sewing for boxes to send out to Humboldt County where a charming missionary family is doing work among the Indians." She says that her family is so large and so united that they become a bit clannish in their visits. Her son, who was so terribly hurt in the war, has overcome on his ranch, much of the ills caused by the shell-shock from which he suffered.

Mrs. Smith has prepared "A Paper" to read to a missionary society in Berkeley on "My Recollections of Hawaii and Missionary life there." She adds, "How I did love to visit them in the long ago! You may be sure I gave each a 'maile wreath' of tender memories of their own personalities and the impressions on my mind."

Smith.—Dr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Smith celebrated their golden wedding, the invitations reading, "Dear friends: will you come and help us be glad on the 8th of September at 3 P.M. at house 35 in T'ung chou, on the occasion of our Golden Wedding? No Gifts, no flowers." The celebration took place on the lawn about a bed of white lilies in full bloom, and there were great Chinese jars filled with golden-rod, sun-flowers, and other flowers of golden hue. Over the door of the house hung the American and Chinese flags, and on a table lay the marriage certificate, pictures of the children, and a pile of Dr. Smith's books in all the languages into which they have been translated; also Mrs. Smith's English leaflets and her books in Chinese.

Mrs. Smith wore her wedding gown of 50 years ago, a pretty, white organdy with a train, and the same gloves and orange blossoms. And she told of the proposal of marriage when she was sweet sixteen from a black-eyed young man of twenty, and how she refused because they were both too young, and how he came again. And Dr. Smith talked about their beloved work, and the marvelous patience, perseverance and endurance of the Chinese people, and the blessed friendships they had formed among the workers. Dr. Barton was there from Boston, and other dear missionary friends, about 70 in all.—(We are indebted to the Monthly Bulletin of the Woman's Board of the Pacific for the foregoing items).

Snelling.—Mrs. L. M. Snelling, from Penryn, California, sends greeting to the dear Cousins and says, "I almost envy you the great privilege you have of doing missionary work and meeting the missionaries as they go and come. I haven't any such blessed privilege, can only give a little and I cannot do much." Surely our Cousin, after all her work and privations as a Micronesian missionary, has done her share of active service, and should rejoice that it is hers to uphold the hands of the younger, stronger workers, and help gain the victory through prayer, faith and patience; for after all the great blessings come from above, and come freely for the asking.

Sturgeon.—Miss Elnora Sturgeon has been very active as chairman of the committee on Kindergarten and Children's Aid Soc., in calling parents' meetings and interesting fathers and mothers in the work.

Thompson.—Mr. U. Thompson, who was one of the first teachers at Kamehameha Schools, told in the October Friend of his talk with Gen. S. C. Armstrong and of his consequent decision to come to Hawaii. This has been the Thompson home ever since, and now that they have returned from a year's leave of absence we greet them with pleasure.

Mr. Uldrick Thompson, Jr., eldest son of our Professor Thompson attended Trinity College and then graduated from Cornell in 1914. His engagement to Miss Mary Rae MacFarlane of Tampa, Florida, was announced recently, the wedding to take place in Spring-time.

Turner.—Miss Charlotte L. Turner as friend and companion of Mrs. Emily Baldwin, has been in touch practically with all the benevolences of Maui and many other missionary influences. Lately she has been writing up Lahaina and its environments,—a paper that will be of growing value as the years go on.

Tuthill.—Mrs. Beulah Logan Tuthill, of 5128 Hyde Park Boulevard, Chicago, sends $10 to make her little daughter Gertrude a member of the Cousins Society. We are glad to welcome little Gertrude into the family, and her name will be inserted with that of her little brother Logan, who became a member a few years ago.

Mrs. Tuthill is the daughter of Rev. Robert and Mary Logan, true and faithful missionaries to Micronesia, whose memory we love to cherish.

Rev. Lawrence P. Van Slyke, whose mother was formerly Mrs. Hanford, a music teacher of Punahou, is a Presbyterian missionary at Oaxaca, Mexico, a city with an elevation of 5000 feet, where delightful weather always prevails. It is 90 miles from the Pacific coast and cut off by an almost impassable range of mountains. The city is reached by going to Vera Cruz, thence to Mexico City and from there south-easterly to Oaxaca. The streets are paved with stones and very rough. Rev. and Mrs. Van Slyke live in a spacious house built along the lines of Mexican architecture, with a court in the center and rooms grouped about it.

Waterhouse.—Mrs. Elizabeth Waterhouse has spent most of the year visiting among her children. Mrs. Margaret Waterhouse Walker's guest for the winter was her father-in-law, Rev. Johnstone Walker from Scotland, and after Mr. Walker's departure her mother made her home with her till Margaret was persuaded to take the children with her and accept an invitation to visit her husband's relatives in Scotland.

Miss Kealoha Waterhouse finished her training as a kindergartner and received her diploma. She then prepared herself to enter the California University with her cousin, Helen Amy, daughter of Dr. Ernest Waterhouse. Here they are both making good. Miss Pinder, who was ill for a time, has since been the guest of Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse. Leigh Waterhouse, son of Dr. Ernest, will graduate from Punahou in June. Miss Martha, daughter of John Waterhouse, is a student at Wellesley, and Jack, her brother, and Shadford, son of George Waterhouse, are at Punahou Academy. Mr. and Mrs. George Waterhouse attended the Golden Wedding of Mrs. Waterhouse's father and mother in July.

Wells.—Henry M. Wells, husband of Mildred Kinney Wells, supervising principal of the Maui Government schools, spent some weeks of his August vacation in Honolulu.

Whitney.—A letter from Miss Mary E. Whitney, of Royalton, Vt., tells of the home-going of her father, Rev. Joel Whitney of Micronesia, on January 16, 1919. Her brother Edward is in the State Hospital at Waterbury, Vt., and she is in her father's home, called "Imwer," the Marshall Island word for "Our House." She has had two dear old cousins staying with her through the winter and is renting part of her house, which keeps her from being very lonely.

She is organist in church and has a class of girls in Sunday School. Miss Whitney is quite gifted in a musical and literary way.

Whitney.—Mrs. J. M. Whitney, eighty-three years young, and a charter member of the Woman's Board of Missions for the Pacific Islands, wrote a long article, "Lest We Forget,"—a history of the Woman's Board from its small beginnings fifty years ago to the present time,—which she read at the Jubilee meeting in June, 1921. In April, 1922, she went with Dr. Whitney and their daughter, Mrs. William Weinrich, to the Coast, where they are to remain some months.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Juliette Montague Atherton entered into the Life More Abundant August 25, 1921. "The Way of Life is wonderful—It is by abandonment." So runs an old French song—singing but half the truth. Pilgrims on that Way are we all; stumbling weakly, or marching bravely abreast with singing hearts; carried away by glimpses of vistas that lead to forbidden glories, or keeping clear before our eyes the vision of that Gate Beautiful wherein we fain would enter when our pilgrimage is ended and our hearts at rest; leaving behind us on that way the things we need no longer, keeping ever those things of the Spirit by which we may travel safely on;—for the things that are seen are temporal, but the things that are not seen are Eternal;—losing the path in darkness or bewilderment or pain—aye, losing it, perchance, when Joy blinds our eyes and the way is no more difficult and steep, but so sweet and fair to us that we no more strive; finding it again when comes another Pilgrim. holding high a burning torch, from which our flickering flame receives the light again. Comes another Pilgrim;—such a Pilgrim was our friend to whom our thoughts go out with tender memories of her life among us; and we would cherish these, keeping their record in our Book of Remembrance, that those things of the Spirit by whose light she walked be not abandoned by us on our way, but kept before our minds,—for our enlightenment, for our cheer, for the strengthening of our hearts, and the nerving of our purposes,—that those enduring qualities that made her life a torch of helpfulness may become—because we love them—a part of our very selves; instilled into our children and our children's children—thus purifying and strengthening our race.

Brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, that Way was not irksome to her, but became a path of light wherein she guided the lives of her own children in time to come,—so impressing upon them its beauty and order that any other way would have seemed inglorious and barren,—teaching them the joy of service,—nay, binding upon them its sweet responsibility;—keeping always the sanctity of the Sabbath day; making it a day of worship, of family tenderness, and friendships; where Joy and Quiet and Music and Beauty and Humor and Hearts' Communion entered in, to glorify the day, and make it memorable.

Loving little children; how gay she could be! treasuring the gleam of fun—the tender pathos of childhood; opening her heart to them,—so that they laid their hands in hers as in a dear playmate's, and Make-Believe-Land was always ready to open its doors at her touch.

All youth was at ease with her,—who through all the years never lost the charm and winsomeness of her own girlhood, but was ever enthusiastic and simple, modest and joy-loving.

Little families interested her,—and how she gathered them, with their cares and problems, to her own great heart and mothered them! smoothing hard places, lifting burdens that only her insight might guess!

Loving her home supremely, she made it a haven of rest and uplift, and gathered to it friends, who, the world around, bless her gracious hospitality. How she enriched her own life and added to her burdens in her care for the missionaries passing through on their way to and from their fields of service, and how she loved to brighten their hours spent here,—glorying in being able to lavish our island beauty upon their weary minds and bodies,—asking only that they love it too! Nature and art and music and literature were open books to her, wherein she delighted with loving enthusiasm, glad for these gifts of the Heavenly Father.

Christian schools were precious to her; and in her wisdom she longed to have them choose and cherish “that better part,”—ministering to them and to their teachers, inspiring them and holding before their minds and hearts the Great Teacher, who taught also of the Kingdom of God.

She loved also, and most dearly, the Kingdom of God and the House of God, and studied its interest, and her nourishing care for our own church in all its work, and for our Woman’s Board, made one of the absorbing interests of her life.

Much more there is to tell of courage, the self-denials for the sake of discipline, of fortitude, of joyous and inspiring good humor—what better gift of her spirit could she leave for our cherishing than that!

“The Way of Life is wonderful—It is by abandonment.” Aye but the things of the Spirit—they are Eternal.

D. R. SCHENCK.

William Thomas Balding died at his residence, 82 Judd street, on May 21st, 1921. Death was not unexpected as he had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Balding was in charge of the office of the Hilo Sugar Company from 1899 to 1919. He was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, December 16, 1870. He came to the Hawaiian Islands, going to Hilo at once, where he became associated with the sugar company. Owing to failing health Mr. Balding resigned his position in Hilo and came to Honolulu. For about seven months, until April 30, 1921, he was employed at the office of the Hawaiian Dredging Company, when he was compelled to relinquish his duties and was confined to his home by severe illness.

Mr. Balding married, February 23, 1897, Miss Caroline A. Clark, daughter of Dr. A. B. Clark and granddaughter of Dr. Ephraim Wesson Clark, one time pastor of Kawaiahao Church. They had four children, who, with their mother, remain to mourn his loss.

C. A. B.

Bates.—"Cousin Louise" (Beals) was married to Dudley Bates at "Brookside" (since known as the Hobron place), and spent her honeymoon at "Maluhia," Nuuanu Valley, where so many of our cousins began their married life—Aunt Kittie Jones, Aunt Laura Dickson, Aunt Emmelita Cooke, and many others. After a few years spent in Honolulu our cousins moved to San Francisco and many of us remember the welcome always waiting at Octavia street. Her Hawaiian scrap-book begun while here and kept up to the time of her "Passing On," is without doubt the most complete and interesting record of its kind in existence. The late Charles R. Bishop told "Cousin Louise" once that it was worthy of a place in the Bishop Museum, and he hoped it would some day be placed there. L. W. W.

Holmes Beckwith.—The tragic circumstances attending the death of Holmes Beckwith may lead those who did not personally know him to misunderstand his life and character. It was perhaps to the completely feminine control under which he grew up that he owed a sensitiveness almost woman-like. His exacting Puritan ancestry gave him his habit of introspection and his dependence upon an absolute justice which never allowed him the relief of compromise. Intellectually he was as honest and open as the sun. He loved to be out of doors, had disciplined his body to long tramps and his mind to the love of solitude in the open. Yet he was the most social of beings. He was a quick and accurate observer; as a boy of eleven he knew the rigging of every craft in New York harbor. His habit of systematic thinking made him able, without practical experience, to grasp difficult technical subjects with astonishing readiness and clearness and to delight in such acquisition. He collected and sorted knowledge as other men collect objects of value. He was gentle with women. Children adored him. A fellow-boarder who knew him during his last year at Syracuse writes of "his fidelity to intellectual honesty and industry, with an eye single to the welfare of humanity which was his guide and passion in all he said and did;" of "his character sound to the core, the high aspirations, the honesty, simplicity and courage, together with a warm heart, zeal for service and brilliant intellect." She says, "He cared more for religion even in these last years, than for anything else in the world."

A friend and fellow-student in his university days writes, "No man held in reverence a higher standard of right in private and in public. He was not like other men, nor did he know men well enough to make allowances for their weaknesses. He applied to them the same rigid exactness he did to himself. His fine strong life and adherence at all costs to what he felt right and true will leave a lasting impression on all students he has studied with. He was always so genuinely interested in every detail of life, and without a cantakerous feeling in the world, was so frank and open and free, I shall always be his debtor. I can see him now as he swung along fast, yet firm, down a street, every nerve and both eyes intent on his present plan I can hear his hearty greeting: 'Hello, Arch, how do you function in your philosophic soul?' He never lost one whit of his direct boyish appeal and immediate contact with everyone. He took every one straight into his thought just as he tried to get straight into theirs."

Those who knew and appreciated his brilliant capacities and unswerving honesty of life and purpose, and who watched his brave struggle with those inherent difficulties of temperament which blocked his progress among men, can say with confidence that his life was at no moment an unworthy one; and the tragedy of his death was such that those who best knew the circumstances and who suffered most directly from them, have attached to him no blame.

Titus Munson Coan, A. M., M. D., was born September 27, 1836, at Hilo, Hawaii, and died May 8, 1921, in New York City.

Munson Coan, like his sisters and brother, passed from home education to the Royal School of Honolulu and Punahou. At the latter he developed a taste for the compendium of sciences known as Natural Philosophy; but he did not accept the dogmas therein without putting them to the test of experiment as far as his means allowed.

By his own work, chiefly by his surveying of kuleanas, or land claims, on Hawaii, he earned the money for his college education.

In 1858 there were six "Cannibals" in Williams College, Henry M. Lyman, Curtis J. Lyons, James M. Alexander, John T. Gulick, James P. Chamberlain and T. Munson Coan, all from missionary families and from Punahou, attracted there by the fame of President Mark Hopkins as an educator, and they were but the first of a stream to flow that way. When Coan came to graduate the Faculty honored him with the Latin Salutatory; and he surprised them with "De Equestratione"—a brilliant defense of a practice very much in vogue among Greek and Latin students, but entirely reprehensible to college rules.

Dr. Coan gained his medical knowledge and experience in the colleges and hospitals of New York City. As a volunteer in the Civil War he was with one or both the naval expeditions against Mobile. In his general medical practice he became physician to many families, some of which retained him through life, though his time was largely engrossed by literary work.

Following the bent of his inclination he developed the new profession of the "Bureau of Revision," which took up the work of preparing manuscripts of authors for the press and seeing them through to publication. This work outgrew his personal ability and he called in other literary and technical assistance. He contributed to medical and literary periodicals, and other literary work filled up his time. His "Gazetteer of the World," of over 25,000 names, finished in 1884 and printed with Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, implied infinite research and care. He was the author of "Hawaiian Ethnography," published in 1889, "Polynesian Charm" in 1891, and "The Climate of Hawaii" in 1891.

He was a member of "The London Authors' Society" and the "Century Club of New York."

He was married, June 21, 1877, in New York City, to Mlle. Leone Morel, and they lived in apartments in the City. Their children were Philip Munson Coan, born May 14, 1879, and Hamilton Morel Coan, born in New York City in 1886.

In his religious life Dr. Coan left the Puritan faith of his fathers and became a supporter of the Broad Church. His nature was social and he was remarkably attached to all people and things Hawaiian.

R. W. A.

Philip Henry Dodge, who died in Santa Cruz, California, Dec. 14, 1921, although not a member of the Mission Children's Society, was during the years that he taught at Punahou, in daily contact with many young people of the Society. Those who came under his influence recognize his nobility of character and profoundly religious nature, combined with strong social instincts. The friendships there formed were mutual and lasting. The sympathy of these friends is with Mrs. Dodge, whose sorrow is also their sorrow. M. A. B.

Alonzo Gartley, husband of Cousin Ada Jones Gartley, left us on April 21, 1921, to meet the Lord on the other shore. His years were not many, but in them he had crowded a great deal of life. Endowed with strength and ability to do things he also had a sense of rectitude and a Christian environment that directed his talents in ways of civil and national usefulness.

Quoting from the Advertiser: "Alonzo Gartley was born October 14, 1869, at Cedar Falls, Iowa, the son of Robert and Jennie M. (Floyd) Gartley. He was educated at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, from which he was graduated in 1890, becoming an ensign and following that profession for two years on the U. S. S. Charleston at San Francisco and Pensacola. He came to Honolulu as a naval officer and this visit brought about his marriage to Miss Ada Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones, the marriage taking place at Newton, Mass., June 12, 1894.

"In 1892 he became associated with the Cramp shipyard, Philadelphia, and from 1897 to 1900 commanded the Pennsylvania Naval Reserve. During the Spanish War he was commissioned a lieutenant in the navy and commanded the converted yachts U. S. S. Aileen and Sylph.

"After the war Mr. Gartley was gas engineer with the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia, and in 1900 came to Honolulu as manager of the Hawaiian Electric Company, holding that position from 1900 to 1910. He was consulting engineer with C. Brewer & Co. from 1910, and in later years became vice-president, manager and director of the firm.

"In 1908 he was appointed a member of the first conservative Commission which was sent from Hawaii to Washington. He was a member of the University, Commercial, Country and Pacific clubs, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Society of Electrical Engineers and American Gas Institute. In 1916 he became president of Catton, Neill & Co.

"Mr. Gartley leaves a wife and four children, two daughters, one of whom is the wife of a naval officer at Pearl Harbor, and two sons at school on the mainland."

Adam T. Green passed away on the twenty-seventh of September, 1921. Not many are left to remember when Mr. Green was voted into the Society in 1872, fifty years ago, but that was the year when Judge Hartwell became a member and Mrs. A. H. B. Judd was welcomed as a bride. That seems a long time ago, but Mr. Green did not forget, and Mrs. Green writes that her husband "often spoke of the Cousins' Society with interest and affection." The sympathy of the society goes out to Mrs. Green in her loneliness. Her address is. Mrs. Harriet F. Green, Oak Knoll, Pasadena, California.

Dr. Walter Vose Gulick, eldest son of Rev. Theodore Weld Gulick, was born April 14, 1870, in New York City. He was made a member of the Cousins' Society in 1874, but so far as we know, never visited Hawaii, his father's early home. He married September 19 1905, Frances Eleanor Brooks, a woman of ability and literary accomplishments, and they had three sons, Howard Brooks, Luther Hervey and Edward H. Gulick. Dr. Gulick had long suffered from heart trouble. When choosing a life profession the physicians told him he might study theology, but could never preach, or he could study medicine, but could never practice; but with great care and self-control he was able to follow his chosen profession for many years.

To quote from the Oberlin Alumni Magazine, "Dr. Walter Vose Gulick, widely known as a specialist in nervous diseases, died at Meadow's Sanitarium, Seattle, on February 10, due to heart trouble. Before studying medicine, Dr. Gulick was a journalist, and for a time served as secretary to the Associated Charities in Chicago, meanwhile living at Graham Taylor's settlement, 'The Commons.' In 1905, four years after graduation, Dr. Gulick joined the Mayo staff in Rochester, Minn., as diagnostician; in 1906 he located in Tacoma, practicing medicine for nine years; in 1915 he became a third assistant at the Steilacoom State hospital, later became first assistant, and in 1918 moved to Seattle, where he specialized in mental and nervous diseases. He had much to do with the building up of the Meadow's Sanitarium. His medical papers and book reviews were in constant demand."

Hester Judd (Dickson) Hitchcock, wife of D. Howard Hitchcock, the well known Island painter, died November 24, 1921, at her home on Judd street.

She was born in Honolulu August 30, 1865, daughter of Joshua Gill Dickson, the founder of "Lewers & Cooke," and granddaughter of Dr. G. P. Judd, who was prominent as an official of the Government during the reign of Kamehameha III.

Hessie was educated at Punahou, and at her graduation in the class of 1888 played "Home, Sweet Home"—with variations—as her part of the program. She then studied music for several years, becoming an accomplished musician.

Her kind and sympathetic nature fitted her for helping others, and she decided to take up nursing, devoting four years to this work and graduating from The New York Hospital. After the death of her mother (Mrs. Laura Judd Dickson), Hessie returned to New York and completed a post-graduate course.

She was married June 16, 1898, to D. Howard Hitchcock, who, with their three children, Harvey, Dickson, and Helen Hitchcock survive her. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. George Sherman of this city and Mrs. Lewellyn Pratt, of Nutley, New Jersey. The three sisters owned homes side by side,—Katie (Mrs. J. S. B. Pratt), at "Poet's Corner" (cor. Nuuanu and Judd streets), Hessie next to her, and Laurita (Mrs. Sherman), at 39 Judd street; and the Pratt children were in and out at Aunt Hessie's as if it were their own home.

Mrs. Hitchcock was artistic in temperament, musical, an efficient Christian church worker, a good wife, a fond mother and a cheerful neighbor, and was loved by all who knew her.

Mrs. Clara Hannah (Dibble) Inch died December 22, 1921, at Atlantic City, N. J. She was born December 26, 1843 at Lahaina-luna, Maui, the daughter of Rev. Sheldon Dibble and Antoinette Dibble of the Sandwich Island Mission. Her father died at Lahaina-luna about a year later, and in 1848 her mother returned with the children to the United States. In 1862 she and her brother Seymour were in San Francisco, "having moved from Clinton, N. Y.," While in San Francisco Clara married Lieut. Philip Inch, Chief Engineer of the U. S. Flagship Charleston. Soon after they passed through Honolulu and while here attended a Cousins' meeting, Lieut. Inch making himself a member and quite winning his way into the hearts of the Society. He subsequently passed through Honolulu many times until his death at Washington, D. C. in 1899.

Of their three children, the eldest, Philip, died in childhood. As Mrs. Inch became a semi-invalid, her daughter, Mary Agnes, remained with her as companion and devoted attendant throughout her life. They had very pretty apartments in Atlantic City and spent their summers at Ocean Beach, New Jersey. The son, Robert Inch, is a successful lawyer of New York City, is married to a Miss Kingsley and has one son, Kingsley Inch, born October 11, 1910, who has been "the joy of them all."

Emily Catherine Cutts Judd.—The daughter of John Scott Cutts and Martha March, both descendants of families who had crossed to America from England in the seventeenth century and became prominent in the development of the Piscataqua Plantation, Emily Catherine was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, on March 19, 1840. Memories of her childhood's home remained vivid throughout her long life and she also cherished happy recollections of a season at Mount Holyoke under that fine educator, Mary Lyon. In 1858, she took the long voyage around the Horn to Honolulu and remained the guest of her aunt, Mrs. H. M. Whitney, until on the first of November, 1859, she was married to Charles Hastings Judd, the son of Dr. and Mrs. G. P. Judd. Stories are still current of the beauty and high spirits of this youthful stranger from New England who became one of the belles of the town.

Residence in Honolulu was interrupted by various sojourns elsewhere—at Baker's Island near the Equator, at Kualoa and Waimanalo on Oahu and also at Leilehua in later years. She travelled in the United States and in Europe at different times and settled down for long periods in Berlin, in Florence and in Auburndale, Mass. But Honolulu was home, and home she returned from time to time, finally passing her last years on the hillside that she loved.

Her life was filled with interesting episodes. The period during which Colonel Judd was the Chamberlain of King Kalakaua stands out as a picturesque experience in which she took a prominent part.

A friend wrote after she had breathed her last on the second of May, 1921:

"Your dear little mother, our beloved Aunt Emmie; I think that there was no one else quite like Aunt Emmie, so dear, so funny, so lovingly interested in all her friends and so ready with her sympathy and understanding." And other friends wrote: "Dear Aunt Emmie! How widely she was loved. She leaves with us a memory that will ever remain." "From my earliest childhood I had the greatest admiration for her face and figure and as I grew older, for her most charming personality. I shall certainly always remember her as the loveliest old lady I ever saw."

"What lovely conditions she has made for herself in the spiritual world!" "Thank God for her bright life and for the happiness and help which she brought to so many."

Towards the end she often repeated Julia Ward Howe's last poem of which these are the final lines:

"My journey nears its close—in some still Haven
My bark shall find its anchorage of rest
When the kind hand which every good has given
Opening with wider grace shall give the best."

J. J. S.

Mrs. George A. Kluegel, or Mrs. Nellie McIntyre Kluegel, "a rare soul of modest nature," passed away March 4, 1922. One friend seems to voice the feeling of many when she says, "Several attempts to write seem so inadequate to express what I feel about Nellie that I am sending this quotation, which I love and which is a beautiful expression of the spirit."

"We seem to give her back to thee, dear God, who gavest her to us. Yet as thou didst not lose her in giving, so we have not lost her by her return. Lift us up, strong Son of God, that we may see further; cleanse our eyes that we may see more clearly; draw us closer to thyself, that so we may know ourselves nearer to our beloved, who are with us."

Mrs. Mamie Aldrich Lyman, the widow of our Cousin Dr. Francis A. Lyman, died April 22, in the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, from the effects of an operation. She came to these Islands with her husband nine years ago from Denver, Colorado. Two sons, Francis A. Lyman and Howard B. Lyman, mourn the loss of a loving mother. Francis, who is married, is employed at the Honolulu Plantation. Howard is in Madison, Wisconsin, having just finished his sophomore year at the University of Wisconsin.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lyman were held on Sunday afternoon in the parlors of Central Union Church, of which she was a member. Comforting passages were read and remarks made by Mr. Palmer. The remains were cremated later and taken to Hilo where they were placed by the ashes of her husband.

Mrs. May Frances Fyfe McDonald died at Twin Lakes, Calif., on April 29, 1921. She was the second daughter of David K. and Julia C. Johnson Fyfe. She was born in Honolulu, August 2, 1876, and for nearly ten years led the glad, free, happy life of Hawaii's childhood. Then the removal of her family took her forever from her island home.

Under California skies May Frances developed into a fair and beautiful girl, and at "sweet sixteen" became the bride of Mr. Charles Adamson. This proved to be an unhappy marriage and in a few years was dissolved, and she later became the wife of Dr. McDonald, of San Francisco.

A daughter and son came into the home and she was ever a faithful, loving wife and mother.

But the earthquake of 1906, with its shock and privations, left her a semi-invalid, with many hours of illness and suffering which she bore with great patience. The sympathy of a kind husband and the help of a younger sister enabled her to continue the care of her home and family for years. A more severe illness than usual in 1919 sent her to her mother's home at Twin Lakes for a rest and change. All in vain, however, for there, on April 26, 1921, her weary body laid down the burden and the sweet spirit took its flight to the mansions above.

The memory of Mrs. McDonald's bright, sweet nature, and her loving tenderness as wife and mother, will not soon fade from the minds and hearts of those who loved her. B. F. B.

Miss Harriet C. Peirce was born in Massachusetts in 1844. Her father, Captain A. W. Peirce, brought his family to these fair isles by way of Cape Horn, leaving them here while he went North to pursue the whaling industry in the inclement Arctic seas. It was their privilege to spend several of these intervals in some of the old missionary families, where and also at Punahou school which she attended the young girl made many congenial friendships. Hawaii afterwards became her home. Debarred in later life by frail health from an active participation in many of life's duties and pleasures, she kept always a mind alert and a heart ever responsive to every good word and work. A Cousin only by adoption she treasured her membership in its charmed circle, and at one time served on the Maile Wreath. S. E. E.

Edgar L. Porter died in June, 1920. He was not a member of the H. M. C. Society, lived at Yakima, Washington, and had never been to Hawaii. But, on August 21, 1894, at Grinnell, Iowa, he married our Cousin Lily Field Brewer, youngest daughter of Professor Fisk P. and Julia Maria Richards Brewer. They have four daughters and one son. The eldest daughter, Julia Edwards Porter (also a member) is not only a Cousin by birth, being a granddaughter of Julia Maria Richards and great-granddaughter of Rev. William Richards, the missionary, but is also a lineal descendant, through an unbroken line of eldest children, from the first child of Jonathan Edwards.

Quotations Arranged from Ten Letters, written for the Memorial Service for Mrs. Lucinda Severance by E. L. D.

"Lucinda Clark was born on September 22, 1843, at Wailuku, Maui. * * *

"She attended Punahou School" where "She was a good scholar, a leader in music, and in everything worth while."

"In 1863 she was married to Luther Severance. After some years spent at Punaluu, Oahu, they moved to Hilo, and for forty years she gave her best efforts to the upbuilding of that community. * * * as leader of the church choir, Treasurer of the Woman's Board, member of the W. C. T. U., Sunday school teacher, and leader of the Literary Society."

"She was a gracious, cordial hostess" * * *

"* * * always ready with a cheering sympathy and helpful interest, that made her home a haven."

"Her love for her Saviour * * * was shown in her daily life, bestowing deeds of kindness."

"It is a joy to recall tributes to her courage, physical and moral, as revealed in incidents of her youth; tributes to her able * * * leadership in * * matters * * touching the community well-being; and tributes to her deeply religious spirit."

"* * Next to her calm, firm trust in God, and her devotion to her church, her life-long friendships stand out in bold relief."

"She was a good friend."

"She had strong convictions, to which she clung tenaciously:—right was right and she would not abate it by a single jot. But her convictions were not jagged with sharp points on which to impale other people. * * * She was always kindly, charitable, sympathetic and considerate,—always looking for the good * * * qualities of the * * * erring—and generally finding them."

"It was the principle of her life that to serve the Master * * * she must forget herself, and that principle * * * became an indelible part of her character, causing her to dispense * * sunshine wherever she went. It was the outward expression of a life hid in Christ with God."

"When she knew that her earthly life must soon end, there were no regrets. She begged us not to grieve, for she was 'going home,' and when I mentioned some we loved whom she would meet, she added, 'and I shall see my Lord.' We believe that she has seen Him and heard the 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

"Faithful unto death, she has received the 'Crown of Life.'"

"Of her it can truly be said that her good works do follow her."

Margherita (Browning) Smith. Beloved and devoted wife of Clarence H. Smith, son of William O. and Mrs. Mary (Hobron) Smith of this city, was born in Salem, Mass., on March 25, 1877, and died of inflammatory rheumatism in Nice, France, on January 13, 1922. She was educated in England and France, and was married to Clarence H. Smith fourteen years ago. Mrs. Smith was a lady of the highest Christian character, very musical and otherwise highly gifted. A sincere and true friend, many are they who deeply mourn her loss.

"Cyrene O. Van Duzee died in Gouverneur, N. Y., October 8, 1921, aged 81 years. Born at the Seneca Indian Reservation, near Buffalo, N. Y., the daughter of missionaries among the American Indians, Miss Van Duzee offered herself to the American Board for missionary service in Turkey, and was sent to the field in 1865. Sixteen years later she was transferred to the Presbyterian Board in Urumiah, Persia, where she served for fourteen years. She returned to America in 1897 and has been active in philanthropic work since that time, as well as in mission work among the Armenians in this country."—From Missionary Herald.

Miss Van Duzee's parents, Rev. William S. and Oral Van Duzee, came to "The Sandwich Islands" in 1837, in the eighth company, and after enduring much sickness and privation returned at the end of three and one-half years, in 1840, leaving a little grave behind them. Later they were missionaries among the Indians.

Miss Cyrene was born soon after the return of her parents. She became a Cousin in 1870, while in Erzroom, Turkey. She writes of "living in tents on the mountains in August to avoid the heat and odors of the city." She speaks again of an evening class of large boys and young men with whom she sang and taught oral astronomy, read the Bible and had prayers—the class increasing from 2 to 45. She seems to have had a girls' school at Salmas where she had trouble in getting girls into the boarding school, but none in getting day scholars. She writes that at one time, in spite of marauding Kurds she was out among the villages of Salmas Plain looking up pupils. The reason for leaving Salmas was "the rising of water from underneath the ground so that the village was being inundated."

In 1897 she writes from Urumiah that retrenchments had been so great that the College had closed, and the Seminary for girls, the hospital and village schools. There were few Armenians left; and she could not teach in Russian. So she resigned.

The next year, 1898, she returned to America and made her home with a much loved double-cousin in Gouverneur, New York.

"Rev. Joel Fisk Whitney, after a week's illness from pneumonia, passed quietly into the eternal life on January 16, 1919.

He was born at Westport, N. Y., March 30, 1843, the son of John Russell and Elmira (Fisk) Whitney. The first-born of nine children, it was his parents' prayer that he might be a minister of the gospel. He began his education in a school in his own home, then attended Barre Academy, Middlebury College, and Andover Theological Seminary.

In 1871 he was ordained to the gospel ministry in the old home church, being under the appointment of the American Board to go as a missionary to Micronesia. At the same time and place he was married to Louise M. Bailey, who was for 45 years his constant companion and helper in all his ministerial work.

His work on the Island mission was fundamental, and recent missionaries have testified to the excellence of that foundation in the lives of the natives. He translated large portions of Scripture and many hymns into the native language, retaining a knowledge and use of that language through all his life. After ten years of hard work, his best working years, he came home for a much needed rest, hoping to return. But other plans seemed in store for him; and instead of the foreign work he took up home work among the churches of this country, preaching in many parishes. A list of churches in which he preached during his life shows nearly 150 names.

In 1902 he decided to return to Vermont and purchase a home for his declining years. He came to Royalton as pastor in April, and purchased his home, "Imwer," (Micronesian name for "Our House"), in August of that year. "During his life at Royalton he has served as chairman of the Board of Library Trustees, and has moderated the Congregational society meeting many times. He has taken great interest in the affairs of the community and would have done more if health and strength had permitted." On June 23 he preached for the last time—from the text, John 20:8.

He is mourned by a son and daughter, a brother and three sisters, and he is welcomed in the heavenly home by his wife and his eldest son, John, by his father, mother, sisters and brothers, and an innumerable company of friends, many of whom will welcome him as the one who taught them the way of life.

Well, the delightful day will come
When my dear Lord shall bring me home,
And I shall see his face;
Then with my Savior, Brother, Friend,
A blest eternity I'll spend,
Triumphant in his Grace."

From a Royalton, Vt., paper.

THE LITTLE ONES.

Thomas Price Merrill,—Nov. 19, 1910—Jan. 23, 1922.

Mary Wilson Midkiff,—June 1, 1918—May 16, 1921.

John Anthony Ideler,—March 25, 1920—Aug. 8, 1921.

Henry Schuler Townsend,—June 19, 1921—June 20, 1921.

Baby Thurston,—Jan. 24, 1922—Jan. 24, 1922.

"In heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father who is in heaven." Such a loving thing is a little child, who comes to earth "trailing clouds of glory," and with very helplessness clinging to our heartstrings, and drawing us, when it slips away, to the threshold of its own happy home. We should like to have seen little Tommie Merrill wake from his sleep of five years and open his long-darkened eyes upon a World of beauty. We should like to have seen blessed little Mary Midkiff, the darling of three bright summers, when she saw her great-grandmother, Juliette Cooke Atherton, entering the pearly gates, and flew to her arms with cries of joyful recognition; and baby John Anthony Ideler, with his inquiring mind and alert little figure finding out the why's and what's and how's of the things in heaven; and little Henry Schuler Townsend and baby Thurston, mere cherubs of a day, carried, after leaving behind their benediction of love, tenderly carried in the arms of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." But we must wait and trust, and know that "All is well."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. R. W. ANDREWS,
Secretary.

July 12, 1921, all bonds and stocks held by your treasurer in both the Maintenance and Missionary Funds were delivered to Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd. "for safe keeping and collection of interest" at the direction of Geo. P. Cooke, President, on suggestion of George R.

Carter, F. C. Atherton and W. W. Chamberlain. Since then a legacy from Mrs. Ida S. Weedon of $45.64 has been paid directly to Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., and receipt given by it to me as treasurer, I not handling the money. This I directed to be added to the Maintenance Fund as Mrs. Weedon in her will made no directions as to expenditures by the society.

The Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., reports that March 31 it had $779.37 in the Maintenance Fund.

The large balances of last year because of small appropriations has made it unnecessary to draw any of the income received by The Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd. It has reported having $281.70 in the Missionary Fund March 31, 1922.

It has reported no details of its accounts to me.
Lihue, Kauai, T. H., April 1, 1922.

LYLE A. DICKEY, Treasurer.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

During the year 1921, the assets of the Society were concentrated and placed with the Hawaiian Trust Company. This Committee was appointed at the annual meeting in April of this year for the purpose of instructing the Hawaiian Trust Company in regard to the re-investment of the Society's funds, and also to consolidate such funds or accounts as the Committee thought advisable.

The Committee finds, at the last minute before this report appears in print, that the foregoing concentration has inadvertently deprived your faithful Treasurer, Mr. Lyle A. Dickey of Lihue, Kauai, of the necessary data for his usual statement of the Society's annual accounts.

The Treasurer's report herewith covers only those funds that have passed thru his hands, and no comparison with previous years can be made without adding to this statement and combining with it the revenues and disbursements made during the eight months of the year thru the Hawaiian Trust Company.

It is now too late to attempt this by correspondence, therefore we recommend the printing in the report of the following figures from the Hawaiian Trust Company, and those who are interested can combine them for a complete annual review of the past year and their publication will at least give in their cash balances on hand a clear starting point for future reports.

CHARTER OF INCORPORATION.

To all to whom these presents shall come, I, Alexander J. Campbell, Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, send greeting:

Whereas, Clarence Hyde Cooke, President; Albert Francis Judd, Vice-President; Maria Sheeley Andrews, Secretary; Robert Wilson Andrews, Recorder, and Lyle Alexander Dickey, Treasurer of an association known as The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, have in behalf and by authority of the said association made application to me, as Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, to grant the said association a charter of incorporation under the corporate name of The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for the purposes of perpetuating the memory of the missionary fathers and mothers who brought Christianity to these Islands, of promoting union among its members, of cultivating in them an active missionary spirit, stirring them up to good deeds and of assisting in the support of Christian work:

Now, therefore, know ye that I, the said Alexander J. Campbell, as such Treasurer aforesaid, and by and with the consent of the Governor of the Territory and in the exercise and execution of every power and authority in any wise enabling me in this behalf, do hereby constitute the members of the said association a body corporate under the name of The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for the term of fifty years for the purposes aforesaid with power by that name in their corporate capacity to sue and be sued, to adopt and use a seal and the same to alter at pleasure, to take, purchase, receive, hold, sell and convey such real and personal estate as the purposes of the corporation shall require, not exceeding in the whole sum the value of $100,000.00 and to mortgage the same to secure any debt of the corporation. Its location shall be in said Honolulu. It shall have power to make By-Laws for the management of its property, the election and removal of its officers and members and the regulation of its affairs, and such By-Laws from time to time to repeal, alter or amend, but the Constitution and the By-Laws heretofore adopted by the said association shall be the By-Laws of the said corporation until the same shall have been repealed, altered or amended with the exception of Articles 1, 2 and 10 of said constitution.

There shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer of the corporation, upon any one of whom service of process may be made, whose names and residences and also the By-Laws of the corporation shall be filed in the Office of the Treasurer of the Territory.

No stock shall be issued nor dividends paid by the corporation.

The members of the said association and such other persons as shall from time to time be elected as members shall be members of the corporation and its officers shall be the same persons who are now the officers of the said association until otherwise provided by the corporation.

The property of the said corporation shall alone be liable for payment of its debts and liabilities.

In witness whereof I hereby set my hand and official seal this 10th day of August, A. D. 1907.

(Signed) A. J. CAMPBELL,
Treasurer Territory of Hawaii.

I hereby consent to the granting of the foregoing Charter this 14th day of August, A. D. 1907.

(Signed) G. R. CARTER,
Governor of Hawaii.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE 1.

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor and a Recorder, all of whom, except the Recorder, shall be elected by ballot, to hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected or appointed.

ARTICLE 2.

At each annual meeting of the corporation, or as soon after as possible, the President shall appoint not less than three nor more than ten members, who, together with the officers mentioned in Article 1, shall constitute a Board of Managers, and who shall hold office until the next annual meeting, or until their successors are appointed.

ARTICLE 3.

Any descendant, or consort of a descendant of those who are or who have been members of the American Protestant Mission of these Islands, or are members of this corporation, may become a certified Life Member by paying ten dollars at one time, or one dollar as a first payment and one dollar or more annually thereafter until ten dollars has been paid.

ARTICLE 4.

All members of the American Protestant Mission are Honorary Members of this corporation. Any person may be admitted as an Honorary member by the consent of the Board of Managers, approved by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE 5.

Any member may appeal from any action of the Board of Managers. If the appeal is seconded, such action may be reversed by a majority vote of the members present.

ARTICLE 6.

The corporation shall hold an annual meeting in April, in commemoration of the landing of the Missionaries in these Islands. Officers for the ensuing year shall be elected, reports of retiring officers read and appropriations made. Special meetings may also be held at the call of the President whenever any missionary or social interest shall in his opinion render such meeting desirable.

ARTICLE 7.

Each member may upon application receive a certificate of membership in the following form, to be signed by the President and countersigned by the Treasurer:

One generation passeth away and another generation cometh; but the earth abideth forever.—Ecd. 1:4.	Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity:—Ps. cxxxiii:1.	Charity suffereth long and is kind; is not easily provoked; thinketh no evil. Cor. xiii:4-6.
	This May Certify that

	Having paid the sum of.....Dollars into the Treasury, is a.....Member of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Honolulu,191.....
	(Signed)..... Treasurer.
Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature.—Mark xvi:15.

ARTICLE 8.

The President shall preside over the meetings of the corporation, appoint the Recorder and all committees not otherwise provided for, sign all certificates of membership and arrange the program of exercise for each meeting. He may convene the corporation to special meetings at his discretion. He shall also be ex-officio President of the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE 9.

The Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the President in case of his absence.

ARTICLE 10.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary, who may be a salaried officer, to keep a record of the proceedings of the corporation at its several meetings, make out an abstract of the proceedings of the corporation for its annual meeting, and be, ex-officio, Secretary of the Board of Managers. The Secretary shall carry out the correspondence of the corporation at home and abroad, take charge of the books and papers of the corporation, see to the publication of matters of interest, and report at the annual meeting.

ARTICLE 11.

The Treasurer shall receive and safely keep all moneys belonging to the Corporation, and pay out therefrom only upon order of the Board of Managers or on approval of the President. He shall countersign all certificates of membership, and shall at each annual meeting present an accurate statement of the receipts and disbursements of the corporation during the year, and of its invested funds, and present his books and vouchers to the Auditor to audit before the annual meeting.

ARTICLE 11-A.

The Auditor shall examine the books and accounts of the Society at least once each year and, if he shall find the same correct and properly vouched and all securities and balances accounted for, certify thereto upon the Treasurer's books.

ARTICLE 12.

All membership fees shall be placed in a fund to be known as "The Maintenance Fund." The fund shall be kept invested. Until the principal thereof become $1000.00 the interest from such fund shall be added thereto. After such amount shall have accumulated, the interest of the fund may be used in defraying the running expenses of the corporation.

ARTICLE 13.

The Recorder, who may be a salaried officer, shall keep a book of records, in which shall be placed the names of all the missionaries sent to the Hawaiian Islands by the A. B. C. F. M. prior to the year 1900, their date of arrival, departure, death, and such other information of historical value as may be collected.

Also the names of all the descendants of each of said missionaries, their marriage, residence, death, and any data of value relating to them which may be obtained.

The names of all the life members of this Corporation shall be recorded.

This book of records shall be kept in such a manner that the genealogy of any name upon its pages may be traced accurately to his or her missionary ancestor.

ARTICLE 14.

§1. It shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to superintend all business transactions of the Corporation not otherwise provided for, have the general control and management of the property of the Corporation, subject to the By-Laws and such resolutions as shall from time to time be adopted at meetings of the corporation, and to keep full and correct minutes of its own proceedings.

§2. Any member desiring to bring any business before the Board of Managers shall make known such business in a written application to some member of the Board, who shall lay it before the Board for its action.

§3. The Board of Managers shall decide upon all applications for membership under Article 4 of the By-Laws; and also make recommendations concerning the disposition of the funds of the corporation.

§4. A report of the Board of Managers shall be presented to the corporation at each meeting.

§5. Any vacancies occurring in the Board of Managers, by death or otherwise, may be filled by the President.

§6. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President at his discretion, or by three members thereof. The Secretary of the Board shall note the members present at each meeting. Three members with the President, or a majority of the Board, shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE 15.

The President shall appoint a Publication Committee of three members, one of which shall be retired from service each year, and the vacancy filled by appointment of the same or of another member of the corporation. The committee shall supervise all matters connected with the printing and distributing of the publications of the corporation and shall assist, when called upon, the Secretary and Recorder, both of which officers shall be ex-officio members of the committee.

ARTICLE 16.

1. The regular meetings of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society shall be opened by prayer and the singing of a hymn.

2. The minutes of the last meeting shall be read by the Secretary.

3. The report of the Board of Managers, Secretary and Treasurer shall then be read and acted upon.

4. A collection shall be taken up by the Treasurer.
5. Next shall follow miscellaneous business.
6. The entertainment provided for shall then be in order.
7. After which the meeting may be closed by singing.

The meetings shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite.

At special meetings it shall not be required that the order of business laid down for the regular meetings be observed.

ARTICLE 17.

§1. In Miscellaneous Business no one shall speak more than five minutes at a time without permission from the Society.

§2. In all points of order the presiding officers shall be guided by the rules laid down in Roberts' Rules of Order.

ARTICLE 18.

These By-Laws may be amended or annulled by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any meeting of the corporation, such alterations having been handed in in writing through the Board of Managers, or by three members.

LIFE MEMBERS OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY, 1921.

SYMBOLS IN THE LIST OF MEMBERS.

Original members of the Society, whether children of missionaries or elect members, have their names printed in the usual manner. The names of their children are preceded by one star, and those of children's children by two stars.

In many cases the name is preceded by a symbol in the margin, which denotes the person's missionary parentage or ancestry; and the key to the symbols is the list below, in which the missionary names are given, but no titles.

 Where the residence of a husband is given, that of the wife, in the next line, is the same.
